McGill Professor Gave Soviet Vital A-Bomb Secrets

Three Others Are Charged
With Yielding Valuable Data to Reds in Spy Case

Ottawa, March 15 (AP)—The Royal Commission said today that its investigation of the Canadian spy case had disclosed that Dr. Raymond Boyer, assistant professor of chemistry at McGill University, had transmitted to the Soviet Union full information regarding his secret work in explosives.

The commission also said three other scientific workers engaged in secret research for the government during the war had given the Soviet Union highly confidential data. With publication of the names of these four, the commission has now identified eight government employees it said were operating in a Moscow-directed "network" in Canada.

Fred Rose, known as the first and only Communist ever elected to the Canadian Parliament, was taken into custody last night. He was not named by the Royal Commission, but Superintendent Josephat Mounted Police said at a news conference that Rose would be arraigned on charges "most definitely" connected with the espionage case.

Today's Royal Commission report elaborated on the general charges made public March 4, giving "spy" details of operations under pseudonyms. The report said the military attaché of the Soviet Embassy had sought to obtain secrets of the atomic bomb, radar, electronics and the whereabouts of numerous United States military units.

Others Named
In addition to Boyer, the commission named these:

Harold Samuel Gerson, assistant to the head of the Production Control Department of Allied War Supplies Ltd., a government company concerned with the production of chemicals and explosives. Gerson was known in the spy ring under the cover name of "Gray," the report said.

Squadron Leader Matt Simons Nightingale, employed as a telephone technician in the construction of military airports by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Dr. David Shugar, a Ph.D. in physics at McGill University, who was employed in the Navy on research in anti-submarine detection. He used the undercover name of "Prometheus," the commission reported.

The commission gave no information as to the suspects were accused of actually transmitting to the Soviet Union.

Apparently replying to widespread criticism over the holding of 13 suspects without the usual rights of habeas corpus, the commission said it had followed this course because "the matters with which the inquiry was concerned appear to be of a national standpoint and because of the exceptional circumstances existing."

"The further evidence which we have heard has not caused us to change this view, but on the contrary has confirmed it," the commission said.

"The evidence has revealed the existence of an organization constituting at least a threat to the safety and interest of the state."

Hold Legislator
Ottawa, March 15 (AP)—Fred Rose, Labor Progressive member of Parliament, was charged today with violation of Canada's Official Secrets Act of 1939. Rose entered no plea on his arraignment in Montreal, and he was remanded for hearing March 22 under $10,000 bail.

Nylon and rayon hose will top the list of hosiery to be manufactured."

Quarryville House Destroyed by Fire

Blaze of Unknown Origin
Razes Michael Malloy
Dwelling Today

Fire, of unknown origin, totally destroyed the two-story frame house owned by Michael Malloy at Quarryville at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Anna Hanmany, 79, an aunt of Mr. Malloy, who was alone in the house at the time the fire broke out, was rescued from the burning dwelling by members of the Centerville Fire Department, who had responded to a call for aid.

An adjoining house was badly scorched by the flames but was saved from destruction by the quick response of the Centerville firemen.

The Malloy house with all of its contents was burned to the ground.

Goering's Artistic Soul Is Bruised

No. 2 Nazi Indignant When War Crimes Trial Brings
Him Art Looter

Nuernberg, March 15 (AP)—An angry Hermann Goering denied to the International Military Tribunal today that he was a looter of Europe's art galleries, declaring that he paid for all he received and was "cheated" in many of the deals.

Sadly, he testified that Hitler made him produce photographic copies of all confiscated art objects whose Jewish owners had fled. Hitler took first choice for the museum he planned at Linz, he said, and left Goering only "seconds."

Although the former Reichsmarschal has freely admitted many prosecution statements concerning his part in Nazi Germany's aggressions, he showed indignation at French charges of his part in the rifling of Europe's art treasures, and went into great detail to explain his actions.

Referring to his dealings in the open market in France, Italy and other places, he said "I was cheated. As soon as it was known I was interested 50 and 100 per cent were added to the price."

Why Not?
London, March 15 (AP)—The Moscow radio, in a domestic broadcast quoted the complete text for day of an order by a commander of American troops in Wuerzburg, Germany telling his men to refrain from criticizing the Soviet Union to the German people. The order was issued on March 11 by Lt. Col. Frank Eby, of Venice, Calif., in his command, the 203rd Anti-Aircraft Battalion.

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The Treasury announced today that another $2,000,000,000 cut in the national debt will be made April 1, in addition to a $2,750,000,000 reduction this month.

The combined reductions, accomplished by redemption of maturing certificates with cash from the Treasury balance, indicated the national debt would approximate $275,000,000,000 next month.

This compares with the record high of $279,764,369,348.29—an average of more than $1,993 for each American—at the end of last month.

'Russia Is Bluffing'

Vernon, and the Headquarters and Headquarters Platoon and Company A of the Third Quartermaster Battalion. The Third Division is under command of Major General Bernard W. Kearney.

Rep. Reece Backed As New G.O.P. Head

Tennessee Legislator Is Veteran Member of National Committee

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Influential Republican legislators were reported lining up today behind Rep. Carroll Reece of Tennessee to succeed Herbert Brownell, Jr., as G.O.P. National Committee Chairman.

Reece, 56-year-old representative from the Volunteer State's First congressional District, reportedly has said he was ready to resign from Congress and take over the chairmanship on a full time basis if he is selected. He probably would serve without pay, friends said, as has Brownell.

The National Committee, of which Reece is a veteran member, meets here April 1 to pick a successor to Brownell, who quit to return to law practice.

Reece, a banker, lawyer, educator and much-decorated World War I veteran, has served in Congress since 1921. He is regarded by Republican colleagues as a "middle of the road" man not particularly identified with the camp of any potential presidential candidate and thus equally acceptable to all factions.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the official thermometer was recording 77 degrees, and an hour and a half later it had jumped to the high of 79 degrees.

Springlike temperatures prevailed throughout the night with 50 degrees being the lowest point registered by the official thermometer.

Economic Setup Is Confused Says A.F.L. President

William Green Calls for Halt in Truman Crazy-Quilt Stand on Wages, Prices

By MAX HALL

Washington, March 15 (AP)—With the postwar wave of C.I.O. strikes subsiding, the rival A.F.L. has moved into the center of the labor picture with two developments:

1. A.F.L. President William Green, often conservative in his utterances, lashed out in a vigorous, jabbing attack on administration wage-price and labor policies. A.F.L. anger has been rising for weeks—not directed at employers but at the government and the C.I.O.

2. A.F.L. President John L. Lewis, boss of the United Mine Workers, finds himself in more of a key position than ever in his wage negotiations now going on with soft coal mine owners. Reconversion Director John Snyder told a reporter that with the settlement of several major strikes, "the one hurdle remaining in re-conversion is early, amicable settlement of labor contracts in the coal industry."

The A.F.L., in its own publications, has contended that the C.I.O. deliberately forced the government to intervene in labor-management relations, and thus made collective bargaining difficult.

Want to Avoid Conflict
Some government officials are disturbed over the possibility of intensified conflict between the A.F.L. and C.I.O. A high economic official, who asked not to be named, said today that an A.F.L.-C.I.O. struggle is one of the remaining reconversion worries of the government.

The A.F.L. has been pointing out that most of the big strikes—for example, in autos, steel, electric appliances, and oil refining—were by C.I.O. unions.

C.I.O. Stands Out
C.I.O. President Philip Murray said in a message to C.I.O. members: "Historians of the labor movement will record C.I.O.'s campaign for substantial wage increases for its members as the most impressive activity of the American labor movement which has no far taken place."

The A.F.L. bitterness doesn't mean that A.F.L. unions have had no wage increases. Late in February the A.F.L. said in an official publication, "to date we have won increases averaging from 10 to 20 cents an hour and up for about 3,000,000 workers."

Demands a Halt
Lewis joined the A.F.L. less than two months ago in Miami. For several months he has been criticizing the government's wage-price policies. Green, too, has been critical of them, but last night in a speech at Carbondale, Pa., he surpassed himself and almost surprised Lewis, too. Green demanded an end of what he called Mr. Truman's "crazy-quilt" wage-price policies. He said Mr. Truman's advisers are "incompetent." And he declared that "the big danger we face is that establishment of a permanent economy in our country regulated and regimented from beginning to end by the federal government."

The A.F.L. president described the economic situation as dark and confused. He said neither labor nor industry knows where it stands or where it is headed.

Calls for New Policy
Green called for a new wage-price policy to be drafted with labor, industry and agriculture assistance and said it should be in effect only for "one year. After that, he asserted at the annual dinner of the Carbondale Central Labor Union, all government controls over wages and prices should be dropped.

"Finally," he asserted, "I urge with all the emphasis at my command that the government eliminate itself from the sphere of labor-management relations except for offering a strengthened conciliation service to both parties, and allow labor and industry to work out their problems through the proper methods of collective bargaining and voluntary arbitration."

But the A.F.L. is attacking what it calls government intervention in free collective bargaining and government regimentation of labor and industry. It says the C.I.O. has forced this intervention by making "uncompromising demands" and going on strike. And it declares that Mr. Truman allowed steel and other prices to rise—in order to meet the C.I.O. demands—thus raising living costs and "robbing" A.F.L. workers of part of the wage

Iranian Army Ready to Fight To Last Man if Reds Attack

By JOSEPH GOODWIN

Tehran, March 14 (Delayed AP)—Gen. Ahmed Sepehrood Amir Ahmadi, Minister of War, said today the Iranian Army was "ready to fight to the last man" if Russian troops move toward Tehran from Karaj, 20 miles northwest of here, where he said trainloads of troops and ammunition are arriving nightly.

"Iran has shown to the world it is a peaceful nation, but if Russia commits an overt act, not only every soldier but every boy and girl in the streets will fight to defend their capital," the General said in an interview immediately following an audience with Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, Shah of Iran.

The Shah, he said, plans to present the Iranian question again to the United Nations Security Council, which will meet in New York city later this month.

Russians Increasing
Ahmadi said the Russian garrison at Karaj had been "increased fourfold" and that there were "three times as many Russians in Azerbaijan as a month ago."

He termed the reported concentration of troops and equipment a "definite threat to Tehran" and added that all necessary precautions were being taken to meet it.

The General said that Iranians would not "go out to meet the Russians or even erect fortifications outside the city."

"Iran's intentions are only peaceful, but our national security is at stake," he added. "Tehran will be defended to the last man—even boys and girls will help—in this extreme and unlikely measure becomes necessary."

Only Partial Evacuation
The General said the Russians have "only partially evacuated" Semnan, Shahrud and Meshed towns in northeastern Iran, where they announced they had begun evacuation March 2, and that he had recalled to Tehran an army column which Soviet troops turned back at Garmsar two weeks ago.

He said he considered it "hopeless for our forces to sit out there on the plains awaiting the pleasure of the Russians."

He repeated an earlier statement that the nation desired "only peace" and said the Shah was trying his utmost to maintain friendly relations with the Russians, but at the same time he is pressing for immediate evacuation of Russian troops as agreed under the 1942 treaty.

The Shah, Supreme Commander of the Iranian Army, was reported today to have postponed a Noruz (New Year) holiday trip to Isfahan "because of the threatening crisis."

Constellation Grounded

Boston, March 15 (AP)—Pan American Airways reported today that its London-New York Constellation plane was forced to land at Logan International Airport because of poor flight conditions. The 36 passengers will proceed to New York by train, an official said.

Silk From Japan

Yokohama, March 15 (AP)—The first shipment of raw silk from Japan to the United States since 1941—about 200,000 pounds—will be loaded tomorrow aboard the S.S. Marine Falcon. The ship is scheduled to sail for Seattle early next week.

Resumes Practice

Dr. Joseph P. Falvey, recently released to inactive duty by the United States Navy Dental Corps, will resume his practice of dentistry at 77 Green street, this city. During his three years of service, he served at Bainbridge, Md., and also aboard the U.S.S. Pelard participating in the Philippine invasion and Iwo Jima. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Falvey of 339 Hasbrouck avenue.

Cherry Blossoms Ahead of Schedule

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The cherry trees around the tidal basin are showing their first blossoms, somewhat to the surprise of park officials who hadn't expected them for another week.

Hurried along by warm weather, the first blossoms burst out five days ahead of the date of their first showing last year, which set a record. They were the single blossoms variety. The prettier pink double blossoms are expected to be out in about two weeks.

Ellenville Vet Is Amnesia Victim in City, Say Police

J. L. Bahr Is Identified
From Credentials He Had With Him in Lunch Room

Suffering from an attack of amnesia, according to the police, a man identified as Joseph L. Bahr of 172 Canal street, Ellenville, a veteran of World War I, was brought to police headquarters at 3 o'clock this morning.

Later in the morning he was placed aboard the Ellenville bus by the police.

Attention to Mr. Bahr's mental condition was reported by the manager of Sam's Lunch on Broadway, who telephoned the police that a patron of the lunch room was apparently suffering from amnesia.

Officers George P. Bowers and Henry Ronnenberg responded and conveyed the man to the city hall, where his identification was made through papers found in his possession.

The police got in touch with the Ellenville authorities and learned that Mr. Bahr had recently been discharged from the Veteran's Memorial Hospital in the village, and that he was employed as custodian of the American Legion building in Ellenville.

Crashes Hydrant In Avoiding Car

Uptown Accident to

Rutledge, Jr., of 148 West Pierpont street, at 12:20 o'clock this morning collided with the fire hydrant on the corner of Broadway and East St. James street, damaging it as well as the street signs at the intersection, according to a police report.

Mr. Rutledge was driving north on Broadway, according to the police, and as he approached the street intersection another car approached causing Mr. Rutledge to swerve his auto to one side to avoid a collision.

No personal injuries were reported by Mr. Rutledge, but the front of his auto was damaged in the crash with the hydrant.

The accident was investigated by Officers George P. Bowers and Henry Ronnenberg.

Publication Fraud

New York, March 15 (AP)—Seven men and one woman, accused of obtaining more than $25,000 through representing that the profits of a magazine published by them would be turned over to wounded veterans, pleaded innocent yesterday before General Session Judge Saul R. Streit. All were arrested on February 4 in connection with "The Army and Navy Hospital Visitors," a publication for which, it was charged they solicited and obtained funds by claiming that the net receipts would go to wounded servicemen.

Current International Situation Not as Bad as Some People See It, President Thinks

Too Much Bad Side

Diplomats Apprehensive
Over Ultimate Soviet Intention in Iran

Washington, March 15 (AP)—A Soviet answer to a United States note was delivered to Secretary of State Byrnes today by Nikolai V. Novikov, Russian charge d'affaires.

Whether it was a response to one of three messages protesting Soviet actions in Iran and Manchuria was not immediately known. Asked by reporters if the message dealt with Iran, Novikov merely remarked:

"There are many important problems other than Iran-Manchuria, etc."

Similarly, there was no immediate word from the State Department concerning the contents of the reply.

There were three U. S. notes awaiting Soviet replies prior to the Novikov visit. Two concerned Soviet actions in Iran and the third protested the reported Russian withdrawal of Japanese industrial equipment from Manchuria.

Not As Bad As It Seems
This development on the diplomatic front came in the wake of President Truman's comment yesterday that he does not consider the current international situation as fraught with danger as many people believe.

"I'm not alarmed by it," he declared, giving his permission for direct quotation. "I'm sure we'll work out of it."

Senators Agree
The chief executive's hopefulness was echoed by two important figures on Capitol Hill, although diplomatic officials remained apprehensive over ultimate Soviet intentions in the Iran area.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) commented "it has been my opinion all along that the situation isn't as bad as the headlines would seem to indicate."

Too Much on Bad Side
And Senator Pepper (D., Fla.) told reporters, "I think entirely too much emphasis has been laid on the bad side of the international situation. I think people who do so are rendering a public disservice."

There is no more reason for Russia and the United States to go to war than there would be for Florida to declare war on Georgia."

Sensitive to the current drift of foreign affairs, the House leadership sought quietly meanwhile to stem the flood of members' speeches rapping Russia and other wartime allies. The time is not appropriate, one of these leaders told a reporter privately, for "Russia-baiting."

"Some lawmakers, too, crossed their fingers on what might develop in the speech Winston Churchill makes tonight in New York."

Strikes at a Glance

(By The Associated Press)
Continuing labor disputes keep idle about 675,000, including 275,000 workers at General Electric and General Motors plants, expected back to work next week.

Major developments:
Coal—Bituminous coal operators complain John L. Lewis delaying start of actual bargaining in negotiations for new contract for 400,000 miners, as A.F.L. United Mine Workers president and district presidents present arguments in support of general demands, including higher pay, shorter work week and improved working conditions; Reconversion Director Snyder hopes for early amicable settlement in coal industry.

Automotive—C.I.O. United Auto Workers General Motors Council meets in Detroit to vote on settlement of 113-day G.M. strike involving 175,000 production workers, with quick approval of 18-cent wage hike and other contract agreements expected. Ratification by U.A.W. locals also indicated.

Electrical—Negotiations in wage dispute involving 75,000 C.I.O. Electrical Workers at Westinghouse Electric Corp., adjourned without agreement; approval of settlement of General Electric strike expected after union conference board ratifies pact granting 18-cent wage boost to 100,000 workers.

Although the former Reichsmarschal has freely admitted many prosecution statements concerning his part in Nazi Germany's aggressions, he showed indignation at French charges of his part in the rifling of Europe's art treasures, and went into great detail to explain his actions.

He claimed that he planned to make reparation for all art objects by establishing a benefit fund for families of Frenchmen killed in the war, but admitted this had never been done.

Referring to his dealings in the open market in France, Italy and other places, he said "I was cheated. As soon as it was known I was interested in 50 and 100 per cent were added to the price."

Why Not?

London, March 15 (AP)—The Moscow radio, in a domestic broadcast quoted the complete text today of an order by a commander of American troops in Wuerzburg, Germany, telling his men to refrain from criticizing the Soviet Union to the German people. The order was issued on March 11 by Lt. Col. Frank Eby, of Venice, Calif., to his command, the 20th (Anti-Aircraft) Battalion.

Economic Setup Is Confused Says A.F.L. President

William Green Calls for Halt in Truman Crazy- Quilt Stand on Wages, Prices

By MAX HALL
Washington, March 15 (AP)—With the postwar wave of C.I.O. strikes subsiding, the rival A.F.L. has moved into the center of the labor picture with two developments:

1. A.F.L. President William Green, often conservative in his utterances, lashed out in a vigorous, jabbing attack on administration wage-price and labor policies. A.F.L. anger has been rising for weeks—not directed at employers but at the government and the C.I.O.

2. A.F.L. President John L. Lewis, boss of the United Mine Workers, finds himself in more of a key position than ever in his wage negotiations now going on with soft coal mine owners. Reconversion Director John Snyder told a reporter that with the settlement of several major strikes, "the one hurdle remaining in reconversion is early, amicable settlement of labor contracts in the coal industry."

The A.F.L., in its own publications, has contended that the C.I.O. deliberately forced the government to intervene in labor-management relations and thus made collective bargaining difficult.

Want to Avoid Conflict

Some government officials are disturbed over the possibility of intensified conflict between the A.F.L. and C.I.O. A high economic official, who asked not to be named, said today that an A.F.L.-C.I.O. struggle is one of the remaining reconversion worries of the government.

The A.F.L. has been pointing out that most of the big strikes—example in autos, steel, electric appliances, and oil refining—were by C.I.O. unions.

C.I.O. Stands Out

C.I.O. President Philip Murray said in a message to C.I.O. members: "Historians of the labor movement will record C.I.O.'s campaign for substantial wage increases for its members as the most impressive activity of the American labor movement which has so far taken place."

The A.F.L. bitterness doesn't mean that A.F.L. unions have had no wage increases. Late in February the A.F.L. said in an official publication, "to date we have won increases averaging from 10 to 20 cents an hour and up for about 3,000,000 workers."

Demands a Halt

Lewis joined the A.F.L. less than two months ago in Miami. For several months he has been criticizing the government's wage-price policies. Green, too, has been critical of them, but last night in a speech at Carbondale, Pa., he surpassed himself and almost demanded an end of what he called Mr. Truman's "crazy-quilt" wage-price policies. He said Mr. Truman's advisers are "incompetent." And he declared that "the big danger we face is that establishment of a permanent economy in our country regulated and regimented from beginning to end by the federal government."

The A.F.L. president described the economic situation as dark and confused. He said neither labor nor industry knows where it stands or where it is headed.

Calls for New Policy

Green called for a new wage-price policy to be drafted with labor, industry and agriculture assistance and said it should be in effect only for one year. After that, he asserted, at the annual dinner of the Carbondale Central Labor Union, all government controls over wages and prices should be dropped.

"Finally," he asserted, "I urge with all the emphasis at my command that the government eliminate itself from the sphere of labor-management relations except for offering a strengthened conciliation service to both parties, and allow labor and industry to work out their problems through the proper methods of collective bargaining and voluntary arbitration."

But the A.F.L. is attacking what it calls government intervention in free collective bargaining and government regulation of labor and industry. It says the C.I.O. has forced this intervention by making "uncompromising demands" and going on strike. And it declares that Mr. Truman allowed steel and other prices to rise in order to meet the C.I.O. demands.

It is raising living costs and "robbing" A.F.L. workers of part of the wage gains.

Iranian Army Ready to Fight To Last Man if Reds Attack

By JOSEPH GOODWIN
Tehran, March 14 (Delayed) (AP)—Gen. Ahmed Sepehrood Amir Ahmed, Minister of War, said today the Iranian Army was "ready to fight to the last man" if Russian troops move toward Tehran from Karaj, 20 miles northwest of here, where he said trainloads of troops and ammunition are arriving nightly.

"Iran has shown to the world it is a peaceful nation, but if Russia commits an overt act, not only every soldier but every boy and girl in the streets will fight to defend their capital," the General said in an interview immediately following an audience with Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, Shah of Iran.

The Shah, he said, plans to present the Iranian question again to the United Nations Security Council, which will meet in New York City later this month.

Russians Increasing

Ahmed said the Russian garrison at Karaj had been "increased fourfold" and that there were "three times as many Russians in Azerbaijan as a month ago."

He termed the reported concentration of troops and equipment a "definite threat to Tehran" and added that all necessary precautions were being taken to meet it.

The General said that Iranians would not "go out to meet the Russians or even erect fortifications outside the city."

"Iran's intentions are only peaceful, but our national security is at stake," he added. "Tehran will be defended to the last man—even boys and girls will help in this extreme and unlikely measure becomes necessary."

Only Partial Evacuation

The General said the Russians have "only partially evacuated Semnan, Shahrood and Meshed," saying in his utmost to maintain friendly relations with the Russians, but at the same time he is pressing for immediate evacuation of Russian troops as agreed under the 1942 treaty.

The Shah, Supreme Commander of the Iranian Army, was reported today to have postponed a Noruz (New Year) holiday trip to Isfahan "because of the threatening crisis."

Constellation Grounded

Boston, March 15 (AP)—Pan American Airways reported today that its London-New York Constellation plane was forced to land at Logan International Airport because of poor flight conditions. The 36 passengers will proceed to New York by train, an official said.

Silk From Japan

Yokohama, March 15 (AP)—The first shipment of raw silk from Japan to the United States since 1941—about 200,000 pounds—will be loaded tomorrow aboard the S.S. Marine Falcon. The ship is scheduled to sail for Seattle early next week.

Resumes Practice

Dr. Joseph P. Falvey, recently released to inactive duty by the United States Navy Dental Corps, will resume his practice of dentistry at 77 Green Street, this city. During his three years of service, he served at Bainbridge, Md., and also aboard the U.S.S. Feiand participating in the Philippines invasion and Iwo Jima. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Falvey of 339 Hasbrouck Avenue.

Current International Situation Not as Bad as Some People See It, President Thinks

Too Much Bad Side

Diplomats Apprehensive Over Ultimate Soviet Intention in Iran

Washington, March 15 (AP)—A Soviet answer to a United States note was delivered to Secretary of State Byrnes today by Nikolai V. Novikov, Russian charge d'affaires.

Whether it was a response to one of three messages protesting Soviet actions in Iran and Manchuria was not immediately known. Asked by reporters if the message dealt with Iran, Novikov merely remarked:

"There are many important problems other than Iran-Manchuria, etc."

Similarly, there was no immediate word from the State Department concerning the contents of the reply.

There were three U. S. notes awaiting Soviet replies prior to the Novikov visit. Two concerned Soviet actions in Iran and the third protested the reported Russian withdrawal of Japanese industrial equipment from Manchuria.

Not As Bad As It Seems

This development on the diplomatic front came in the wake of President Truman's comment yesterday that he does not consider the current international situation as fraught with danger as many people believe.

"I'm not alarmed by it," he declared, giving his permission for direct quotation. "I'm sure we'll work out of it."

Senators Agree

The chief executive's hopefulness was echoed by two important figures on Capitol Hill, although diplomatic officials remained apprehensive over ultimate Soviet intentions in the Iran area.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) commented "it has been my opinion all along that the situation isn't as bad as the headlines would seem to indicate."

Too Much on Bad Side

And Senator Pepper (D., Fla.) told reporters, "I think entirely too much emphasis has been laid on the bad side of the international situation. I think people who do so are rendering a public disservice."

There is no more reason for going to war than there would be for Florida to declare war on Georgia."

Sensitive to the current drift of foreign affairs, the House leadership sought quietly meanwhile to stem the flood of members' speeches rapping Russia and other wartime allies. The time is not appropriate, one of these leaders told a reporter privately, for "Russia-baiting."

"Some lawmakers, too, crossed their fingers on the subject might develop in Winston Churchill makes tonight in New York."

Strikes at a Glance

(By The Associated Press)

Continuing labor disputes keep idle about 675,000, including 275,000 workers at General Electric and General Motors plants, expected back to work next week.

Major developments:
Coal—Bituminous coal operators complain John L. Lewis delaying start of actual bargaining in negotiations for new contract for 400,000 miners, as A.F.L. United Mine Workers president and district presidents present arguments in support of general demands, including higher pay, shorter work week and improved working conditions. Reconversion Director Snyder hopes for early amicable settlement in coal industry.

Automotive—C.I.O. United Auto Workers General Motors Council meets in Detroit to vote on settlement of 113-day G.M. strike involving 175,000 production workers, with quick approval of 18 1/2 cent hourly wage hike and other contract agreements expected. Ratification by U.A.W. locals also indicated.

Electrical—Negotiations in wage dispute involving 75,000 C.I.O. Electrical Workers at Westinghouse Electric Corp. adjourned without agreement; approval of settlement of General Electric strike expected after union conference board ratifies pact granting 18 1/2 cent wage boost to 100,000 workers.

Iran Situation Is 'War of Nerves' British Contend

London, March 15 (AP)—Britain considers that the reported Russian troop movements in Iran are a part of a "war of nerves" and attributes the tension to the Soviet breach of the agreement to withdraw from the country by last March 2, qualified diplomatic sources reported today.

These sources said the British take the position that one of the consequences of Soviet troops remaining in Iran is that any reports of troop movements inevitably give rise to every kind of anxiety.

A foreign office spokesman said most of the government's information on troop movements came from the U. S. State Department.

Reports by British representatives, he said, related primarily to the Tabriz district. Some troops, he said, had been observed going northwest from Tabriz toward the road toward the Turkish frontier or the one toward Russia. British reports had not placed them beyond the fork, although dispatches from Tehran yesterday said they had taken the fork toward Turkey.

A second body of troops, the spokesman said, was reported by British representatives to have left Tabriz toward Tehran but "the capital is a long way down the road, thus it is impossible to draw any conclusion."

"All I can say," he concluded, "is that Russian troops are in Iran and they should not be there." He said Britain would be unable to judge whether Soviet policy in the Middle East is aggressive or defensive until a reply to Moscow from the British note to Moscow asking a Russian explanation.

London Paper Hints Churchill's Retirement

London, March 15 (AP)—The Evening News declared today that Winston Churchill would relinquish leadership of the Conservative Party soon after he returned to Britain from the United States.

A Conservative Party spokesman commented that the report "might be true, but there has been no announcement."

The News said the former prime minister would give up the post in order to devote the greater part of his time to writing his war memoirs.

Mentioned as possible successors were former British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, now acting leader of the opposition in Churchill's absence, and R. A. Butler, former minister of labor and national service in the wartime cabinet.

Bank and Agent Auto Plan Subject of Insurance Meeting

There was a largely attended meeting of the Ulster County Insurance Agents Association at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday night, called to discuss the "Bank and Agent Auto Plan" which is new in Kingston, but which has been in operation in various sections of the country for some time past.

The insurance men had as their guests representatives of banking interests in the city and county and also a number of automobile dealers.

William A. VanValkenburgh, chairman of the association, presided and said that he believed the plan would work to the benefit of all three parties concerned. He saw it as helping the banks and insurance agents retain business and putting the car dealers in a cash sales position.

Charles J. Schoen, an insurance man of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and a member of the executive committee of the State Insurance Agents Association was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Schoen was in Kingston last September, at which time he discussed the preliminary steps necessary to inaugurate the Bank and Agent Auto Plan.

Miners' Parents Must Get Approval To Visit Families

Washington, March 15 (AP)—A mine union official declared today that regulations on some company-owned houses prohibit the parents of a tenant from visiting the home without company permission.

William Blizard, a West Virginia district president of the United Mine Workers, told the bituminous wage conference that the Kopper Coal Company has such provisions in its leases.

John J. Lewis, feigning incredulity, rose on the conference floor to ask Blizard:

"Are you serious in saying that the Kopper Coal Company undertakes to regulate what visitors a family might have?"

Blizard replied yes.

"American citizens," asked Lewis, again Blizard nodded.

"That's my understanding," said Blizard, president of District 17.

"The Mellon family is one of our best economic families which gave $50,000,000 to our government to buy pictures in an art gallery," Lewis asked.

The district leader said, yes, this was the same family, and Lewis remarked, "I wonder if the Mellon family knows about this," referring to the leases.

Blizard suggested it would be a good idea to send a copy of the lease to the Mellon family, since, he said, no representative of the family was present at the conference.

"You shocked me by the statement," Lewis said to Blizard. "I am sure it must be true, however. I have seen these leases myself. I could hardly believe my own eyes. I am glad to have you confirm it."

Return Europa to German Ship Pool

New York, March 15 (AP)—The giant liner Europa, once the pride of the German Merchant Marine, sailed today for Bremerhaven, Germany, where she will be placed in the undivided pool of captured German ships for further disposal.

The ship was brought here last year as a prize of war and for a time was used to bring United States troops home from Europe. For several months the ship remained in New York, and finally officials decided she did not meet American standards and she should be returned to Europe.

What an Idea!

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Rep. Rich (R., Pa.) told the House members today if they wanted to do something for the veterans' they should give them $4,400,000, 000 instead of lending it to Britain.

Selfish Interests Scored as Blocks In Housing Drive

New York, March 15 (AP)—Lee F. Johnson, executive vice-president, told the National Housing Conference today that selfish interests are threatening a national housing policy which would provide emergency short-term housing for veterans and a long-range program for all Americans.

Addressing 1,000 persons on the second day of the conference's 15th annual meeting, Johnson declared:

"If we believe that every American family is entitled to a decent home, then we should face the fact squarely that our objective is being threatened by selfish interests. We have proved their ability to be public by the National Real Estate Board, the National Home Builders' Association, the National Association of Manufacturers, the National Chamber of Commerce, and others with similar ideologies."

Johnson urged his listeners to make the strongest effort in their communities to get public backing for the passage of the Wagner-Ellender-Taft Housing Bill.

Anticipating a bitter fight against the bill in both the Senate and the House, Johnson said: "Lobbies that are so strong that they have proved their ability to defeat every essential right of every American veteran of modest means to any chance for decent home, are working day and night to defeat the bill."

If the bill is not passed, Johnson said, "we shall lose our fight for decent housing every step of the way and uncontrolled inflation will rule with eventual benefits to none, but eventual disaster to all."

Dodge Announces First New Passenger Models

Detroit, March 15 (AP)—Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. today announced its first new passenger automobile since 1941, embracing what were described as 60 design and engineering improvements.

A new front end with massive grille of stainless steel, wide end-circling bumpers and front fenders that extend well back along the front door are some of the exterior changes.

The car is powered with a six-cylinder, 102-horsepower L-head high compression engine and has the Dodge all-fluid drive.

The company announcement said the new vehicle will be produced in a de luxe and custom lines with a list of eight body styles.

Tennessee Democrats Move to Oust Hannagan

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Legislation which would force Postmaster General Robert E. Hannagan to resign as Democratic national chairman or give up his cabinet post was offered today by Senator Stewart (D-Tenn.).

His bill would prohibit heads of government departments or agencies from acting as officers of political parties. It would become effective 30 days after enactment.

Stewart issued a statement which made no mention of Hannagan but said his bill was aimed to correct "a questionable practice for many years—at least one that has caused considerable criticism."

Democratic leaders in Tennessee long have been feuding with Hannagan.

Bedell Smith's Name Submitted to Senate

Washington, March 15 (AP)—President Truman today sent to the Senate the nomination of Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith to be ambassador to Russia.

The President acted after signing legislation permitting General Smith to take over his post at Moscow without losing his military status.

General Smith will replace W. Averell Harriman.

Quake Damage

Los Angeles, March 15 (AP)—Earthquake shocks felt over southern and central California early today caused earth slides which broke the Los Angeles aqueduct in Sand Canyon, in the Owens Valley, the city bureau of water and power reported today.

The California Institute of Technology seismograph recorded a long series of shocks from 8:21 a. m. to 8:50 a. m. (E.S.T.), the heaviest at the latter hour, "about the size of the Long Beach earthquake of 1933."

Could Be

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Taking note of a statement by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., that he and other veterans may march on Washington to protest housing shortages, Rep. Gross (R., Pa.) today said he would introduce legislation to limit the number of veterans who could march.

Frankfurt, March 15 (AP)—An American sergeant was shot to death in his billet at Hedderheim yesterday and military police, finding a 20-year-old German girl standing over him with his own gun, said they were investigating the possibility of murder in a lovers' quarrel.

The sergeant, whose name is being withheld until relatives are notified, was shot through the heart. The girl said the shooting was accidental.

Iran Situation Is 'War of Nerves' British Contend

London, March 15 (AP)—British considers that the reported Russian troop movements in Iran are a part of a "war of nerves" and attributes the tension to the Soviet breach of the agreement to withdraw from the country by last March 2, quashed diplomatic sources reported today.

These sources said the British take the position that one of the consequences of Soviet troops remaining in Iran is that any reports of troop movements inevitably give rise to every kind of anxiety.

A foreign office spokesman said most of the government's information about the situation came from the U. S. State Department. Reports by British representatives, he said, related primarily to the Tabriz district. Some troops, he said, had been observed going northwest from Tabriz toward a fork where they might either take the road toward the Turkish frontier or the one toward Russia. British reports did not place them beyond the fork, although dispatches from Tehran yesterday said they had taken the fork toward Turkey.

A second body of troops, the spokesman said, was reported by British representatives to have left Tabriz toward Tehran but "the capital is a long way down the road, thus it is impossible to draw any conclusion."

"All I can say," he concluded, "is that Russian troops are in Iran and they should not be there."

He said Britain would be unable to judge whether the Soviet policy in the Middle East is aggressive or defensive until a reply is received from the British note to Moscow asking a Russian explanation.

London Paper Hints Churchill's Retirement

London, March 15 (AP)—The Evening News declared today that Winston Churchill would relinquish leadership of the Conservative Party soon after he returned to Britain from the United States.

A Conservative Party spokesman commented that the report "might be true, but there has been no announcement."

The news said the former prime minister would give up the post in order to devote the greater part of his time to writing his war memoirs.

Mentioned as possible successors were former British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, now acting leader of the opposition in Churchill's absence, and R. A. Butler, former minister of labor and national service in the wartime cabinet.

Bank and Agent Auto Plan Subject of Insurance Meeting

There was a largely attended meeting of the Ulster County Insurance Agents Association at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday night, called to discuss the "Bank and Agent Auto Plan" which is new in Kingston, but which has been in operation in various sections of the country for some time past.

The insurance men had as their guests representatives of banking interests in the city and county and also a number of automobile dealers.

William A. VanValkenburgh, chairman of the association, presided and said that he believed the plan would work out to the benefit of all three parties concerned. He said it was helping the banks and insurance agents retain business and putting the car dealers in a cash sales position.

Charles J. Schoen, an insurance man of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and a member of the executive committee of the State Insurance Agents Association was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Schoen was in Kingston last September, at which time he discussed the preliminary steps necessary to inaugurate the Bank and Auto Agent Plan.

Mr. Schoen said that when automobiles first made their appearance neither the banks nor the insurance men were particularly interested in the car buyer's financial situation. Then, said he, came the organization of finance companies which, it was declared, today control some 15 or more large insurance companies. As a result, he claimed, thousands of dollars a month were taken out of the country in the days before the war through this system of financing and insuring cars.

The new plan would finance car purchases through local banks, with the insurance being handled by local agents. Insurance men face the job, it was stated, of changing the buying habits which car buyers have developed during the years.

Mr. Schoen told how the plan had worked out in his home town of Mt. Vernon. There three commercial banks cooperate in handling the business, with identical paper work being used. At present they charge an interest rate of four and one-half per cent.

A question period followed Mr. Schoen's talk and movies were shown illustrating the manner in which the plan had been carried out in Chicago and other cities of the country.

Miners' Parents Must Get Approval To Visit Families

Washington, March 15 (AP)—A mine union official declared today that regulations on some company-owned houses prohibit the parents of a tenant from visiting the home without company permission.

William Blizard, a West Virginia district president of the United Mine Workers, told the bituminous wage conference that the Kopper Coal Company has such provisions in its leases.

John J. Lewis, feigning incredulity, rose on the conference floor to ask Blizard:

"Are you serious in saying that the Kopper Coal Company undertakes to regulate what visitors a family might have?"

Blizard replied yes.

"American citizens?" asked Lewis. Again Blizard nodded.

"That's my understanding," said Blizard, president of District 17.

"The Mellon family is one of our best economic families which gave $50,000,000 to our government to buy pictures in an art gallery?" Lewis asked.

The district leader said, yes, this was the same family, and Lewis remarked, "I wonder if the Mellon family knows about this," referring to the leases.

Blizard suggested it would be a good idea to send a copy of the lease to the Mellon family, since, he said, no representative of the family was present at the conference.

"You shocked me by the statement," Lewis said to Blizard. "I am sure it must be true, however, I have seen these leases myself. I could hardly believe my own eyes. I am glad to have you confirm it."

Officer Shipped For Refusal to Brief Civilian Airplane

Rome, March 15 (AP)—Stars and Stripes reported today that Lt. William Allen, weather forecaster at the Ciampino Airport, had been ordered transferred to Germany for refusing to handle the briefing of the pilot of a Spanish plane which was to carry Spanish cardinals to Madrid from the Rome Consistory March 2.

The U. S. Army newspaper said the issue at the Rome airport over American Army personnel serving Spanish planes was sharpened yesterday "with the sudden transfer of Allen to Germany and a request for the names, serial numbers and military occupation specialty numbers of nine officers composing the weather station complement at Ciampino."

Allen, whose mother lives in Chicago, Ill., said in an interview he had been ordered to report immediately to the Fifth Weather Wing Headquarters at Weisbaden, Germany. Allen said he did not know whether the transfer was a result of the incident, but that "I can think of no other reason."

Women Voters League Approves British Loan

Washington, March 15 (AP)—A director of the National League of Women's Voters testified today that the organization endorsed the proposed British loan.

Mrs. Alan C. G. Mitchell, a director, told the Senate Banking Committee the League regarded the $3,500,000,000 loan as "an instrument which will increase the chances for jobs and decrease the chances for war."

She said the league has between 35,000 and 60,000 members in 60 communities.

That comes to spending money at the rate of $5,444.44 an hour.

New Yorkers Guard Churchill Carefully On Eve of Speech

New York, March 15 (AP)—New Yorkers today officially welcomed Winston Churchill but attention glossed over the day's activities to focus on the former British Prime Minister's talk tonight.

Extraordinary precautions were taken by Scotland Yard men and city authorities to guard the doughty Briton in his Waldorf-Astoria Hotel suite and during his swing through the city.

Churchill was expected to reply tonight to critics of his Fulton, Mo., speech and possibly to Generalissimo Stalin's denunciation.

Contents of the talk were secret. A member of Churchill's staff said the one-time war leader had the only copy to use in delivery from 10:30 to 11 p. m. (E.S.T.) at an official city dinner.

A low-hanging fog and drizzle—similar to London weather—were not expected to break during the Churchill tour.

Two Communist members of the City Council said they would not attend a ceremony at City Hall where Churchill will receive the City's Gold Medal and Distinguished Service Certificate.

Councilmen Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., and Peter V. Cacchione said in a joint statement that Churchill was trying "to bring about a third World War against our great ally, the Soviet Union."

Air Mail Rate Slash Recommended Today

Washington, March 15 (AP)—A departmental report to Postmaster General Robert E. Hannagan today recommended immediate reduction of the domestic air mail rate to five cents an ounce.

The report, by the second assistant postmaster general, suggested an eventual three-cent-an-ounce air mail rate.

Air mail now is eight cents an ounce.

The Postoffice Department said the report resulted from "exhaustive studies undertaken to provide faster mail service and to contribute to the national defense by building up the nation's air fleet and utilizing war-trained personnel."

The report also recommended a sharp reduction in foreign air mail rates and establishment of an air parcel post system.

zains which they had won without any price increases.

Not All Demands Met

Any C.I.O. pleasure over the wage settlements doesn't mean that all of the C.I.O.'s demands were satisfied.

The raises finally decided upon in the auto and basic steel industries were 18 1/2 cents an hour, close to it. For the steelworkers this was about three-fourths of what they had demanded. For auto workers it was a little more than half.

Are the raises enough to make up for lost overtime pay? C.I.O. sources say "no." But they say the raises come fairly close to it.

BABSON ON BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES POLITICS

Babson Park, Fla., Mar. 15 — With an "accident" for President, "old chums" for Cabinet Officers and a Congress looking only for votes, our political situation appears very bad. My Democratic friends say that conditions really are no worse than in the past. They claim our pessimism is due to the radio, with its "news" and commentators, (which the newspapers have been forced to imitate) which serves as a great magnifying glass to make these evils look bigger than they really are.

American People Are Sound

Many people believe that we are in an unfortunate era of an inevitable social and economic cycle. They believe that to attempt to stop it is like trying to "brush back the ocean with a broom." They believe it is much better to wait until the tide naturally turns back to conservatism as it sometimes does. I cannot agree with this do-nothing philosophy. I believe we all should fearlessly fight for what is right however much we may temporarily suffer. I believe that this country and the entire world could be saved from much grief by one simple thing. This would be for the conservative of the South and the conservative Republicans of the North to combine into one party. It is true that our political leadership is very bad. This is why a few labor leaders are able to bully courts, Congress and the people into doing what is unjust.

Red Hall, owner of Rodall Kennels, Lincoln, Nebraska, writes: "I own and operate a kennel of 100 Black Labradors, and have found Kellogg's G-R-P-P to be the right kind of food for my dogs. It helps them develop strong bones and teeth and helps them keep in A-1 condition. I heartily recommend it."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's G-R-P-P because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's G-R-P-P is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

NEEDS EXTRA LIMBS

Dickie Landers, 3, who lost both legs when hit by a train March 8, smiles from his hospital bed at Lynn, Mass., after residents of the city had raised over $1,000 in response to appeals by a Lynn newspaper for contributions to buy the little boy artificial limbs. Townsfolk hope to raise $5,000 or more, because doctors say a growing boy needs 10 changes of artificial limbs before he is 15 years old—and they cost $500 a pair. (AP Wirephoto).

No Doubt It's Good

Greensboro, N. C., March 15 (AP)—The U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue here received an income tax return from a North Carolina woman showing, correctly, that she owed no tax.

Accompanying it was a check made out for "no dollars and no cents," with a notation "no tax due" in the lower left corner.

What Is Inspiration?

Anderson, S. C., March 15 (AP)—A holdup man robbed an Anderson movie theatre box office of $300. Showing inside at the time was the picture, "The Bandit of Sherwood Forest."

Ultimatum

Vancouver, Wash., March 15 (AP)—Two men spent the night in sleeping bags on Vancouver's main street, to be the first in line of 650 persons for a nylon stocking sale.

Walter Williams, breakfasting on cold hamburger, explained: "My wife said I shouldn't come back without 'em."

"I'm engaged," said Karl Kinder, "and she said she wouldn't marry me unless I got her a pair."

Double Duty

San Diego, March 15 (AP)—Two World War 2 veterans—Kenneth Fountain and Ralph M. Schuck—volunteered to make a house to house canvass to register voters.

Armed with the registration books they started out, returning at intervals to the county registrar of voters office for more books.

Yesterday they brought their filled books in again.

"Do you want new ones?" asked Deputy Registrar Howard Gollon.

"No thank you," the veterans replied happily. "We accomplished our purpose—we both found houses to rent."

Expensive?

Thermopolis, Wyo., March 15 (AP)—At a Parent Teachers' Association luncheon, ladies with the biggest circumference had to pay more for their meal. The charge was one cent for every inch of waistline.

(There was no announcement of proceeds from the lunch.)

Help Problem Studied

If the servant problem is to be solved, working conditions must be made attractive to the modern girl, the Irish Women Workers' Union has declared, in Dublin. It suggests that a joint committee of employers and domestic workers be set up in Eire to work out plans.

BABSON ON BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES POLITICS

Babson Park, Fla., Mar. 15 — With an "accident" for President, "old chums" for Cabinet Officers and a Congress looking only for votes, our political situation appears very bad. My Democratic friends say that conditions really are no worse than in the past. They claim our pessimism is due to the radio, with its "news" and commentators, (which the newspapers have been forced to imitate) which serves as a great magnifying glass to make these evils look bigger than they really are.

American People Are Sound

Many people believe that we are in an unfortunate era of an inevitable social and economic cycle. They believe that to attempt to stop it is like trying to "brush back the ocean with a broom." They believe it is much better to wait until the tide naturally turns back to conservatism as it sometimes surely will. I cannot agree with this do-nothing philosophy. I believe we all should fearlessly fight for what is right however much we may temporarily suffer. I believe that this country and the entire world could be saved from much grief by one simple thing. This would be for the conservative Democrats of the South and the conservative Republicans of the North to combine into one party. It is true that our political leadership is very bad. This is why few labor leaders are able to bully courts, Congress and the people into doing what is unjust

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

Keep in A-1 condition

Red Hall, owner of Rodell Kennel, Lincoln, Nebraska, writes: "I own and operate a kennel of 100 Black Labrador dogs. I feed Kellogg's G-R-O-P-U-P to be the right kind of food for my dogs. It helps them develop strong bones and teeth and helps them keep in A-1 condition. I heartily recommend it."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's G-R-O-P-U-P because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's G-R-O-P-U-P is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

Get this scientifically formulated dog food in 3 forms: Ribbon, Meal, or Pellets — at your grocer's or pet shop. Made by Kellogg Co. of Battle Creek.

and unsound. But the majority of the American voters are still wise and unselfish. They lack only the ability to express themselves due to the queer mix-up of both parties. If voters were able to forget the labels "Republican" and "Democrat" and could choose between "New Deal" and "Anti-New Deal" there is no doubt as to what would happen. Once more we would have a safe representative government as the founders of our country planned.

Let Us Be Prepared

In the meantime, it may be well to be forearmed and to diversify our forms of security. I believe in life insurance, for instance, but a life insurance policy will not give me food, clothing and shelter when some of these things are available. Hence, every large city family, who can afford it, should have a small productive place somewhere outside the city. Moreover, until most city families have such refuges, strikes will continue to grow more severe. They cannot be prevented by law. Only when families become independent of city conveniences, will labor unions come to their senses.

I am especially interested in the possibilities of home refrigeration of food supplies. If we could be sure that our electric power would never be turned off, I would recommend that every family buy a home-freezer and join a community cooperative freezing association. On the other hand, the more we depend on these home-freezers, the more we are subject to the control of labor unions and politicians. Hence, those of us who use home-freezers should have them supplemented by a good supply of canned goods.

Favors the South

I wish that every family could have a refuge in Florida, California, Arizona or some other southern state. This would immediately eliminate the fuel hazard from which northern cities throughout the world are suffering today. Moreover, with a flowing well or irrigation, food can be raised in the southern states every month of the year. In fact, the food, clothing and shelter problem is largely solved by having a place in a warm section of the country.

I am not fearful of immediate trouble, but we should "insure" our investments against the possibility that they may, for a time, be of no use in supplying us with food, clothing and shelter. We buy fire insurance when we do not expect a fire! Certainly the chances of a revolution within this country some time are equal to the chances that your individual house will burn down. Hence, why not equally insure for both hazards? This does not mean that one should now sell stocks. Money in good common stocks is probably safer than money in the bank. It merely means "hope for the best, but prepare for the worst."

GREAT ECUADOREAN

Ecuador, which is not generally regarded as one of the more advanced South American republics, may deserve more credit than it gets. Like other Latin American states, it has a statue in the Pan American Hall of Fame at Washington. Most countries put in generals or statesmen. Venezuela contributes Bolivar and Argentina San Martin, the two great winners of South American independence from the Spaniards. Other liberators commemorated are Chile's Bernardo O'Higgins and Bolivia's Antonio Jose de Sucre. Mexico chooses to be remembered by Benito Juarez, its president in the '60's who was of full Indian blood.

Ecuador's representative is not of this customary type. He is Francisco Eugenio Espejo, an 18th century author, the country's first librarian, editor of her first newspaper, and a forerunner of Pasteur in the study of microbes. A country which places a man of such quiet achievements as these above the more glamorous warriors and statesmen, should receive more attention.

Truman never expected to be President, but went along for the ride, and now he is finding the road full of unexpected bumps and chuck holes.

TOO CONFIDENT

The chief weakness of Americans, as a class, continues to be excessive self-confidence. This appeared in our war preparations and has appeared still more, perhaps, in our disarmament. General Eisenhower, in a recent report, tells of his discouragement in an inspection tour of army bases, which he says "shows a disorganization of our military strength almost to a point of impotence." In an uncertain world "we are making the future more uncertain by deliberately destroying the strongest agent we have to keep the peace." The greatest need today is trained men.

Surely if we are going to have an army at all in peace time (and the times require it) it should be well-disciplined and first-class in every respect. There is never any question as to how gallantly an American army will fight; but it is never safe or wise to relax the military skills essential to every fighting force.

Another public speaker announces that "what this country needs is clear thinking." What is clear thinking? Our kind, of course.

ICEBERGS FOR SHIPPING

The Titanic was thought unsinkable, but an iceberg sunk it. That may have been why in 1942 and 1943, as is now revealed, the American, Canadian and British governments experimented with the idea of building a 2,000,000 ton carrier out of iceblocks to combat the submarine menace.

The project developed unexpected difficulties, and the submarine situation improved, causing the dropping of the scheme. The promoters may well have wished that they could harness some of the Antarctic icebergs. These are the largest in the world, some attaining a length of 40 miles. Only no way has been devised to get them through the warm waters of the equator, and have anything left for service in the northern seas.

The outlook for new cars is brightening. When they come, they will at least provide some sort of sleeping space, and so may relieve the housing shortage.

GENEROUS GRADUATE

One devoted college graduate can do a good deal for his college. Macalester College in St. Paul has received nearly 1,000 American hymn-books, said to be the greatest collection of its kind in the United States. The giver is Arthur Billings Hunt, a baritone and musical director from Brooklyn, N. Y., who served as director of music in the European war zone. He had already given his college a valuable library of first editions of musical pieces; now he has placed it in the front rank for hymn books.

Macalester College may not be the largest

THE LOAN AGREEMENT

When Joseph P. Kennedy suggested that the United States make Great Britain a grant-in-aid rather than a loan, he bespoke honesty of purpose, for by no stretch of the imagination, even of politicians, it is possible to call the current transaction between these countries a loan.

For a loan involves an absolute assurance of a return. The lender assumes no risk at all. He takes into account the ability of the borrower to meet his obligations and should he find them inadequate or doubtful, he does not make the loan. He demands security to eliminate risk. The required security depends upon the degree of certainty of the ability of the borrower to repay. The lender wants not only a return of his money but a reward for its use by the borrower. This is interest. If the borrower's credit is poor, he charges a higher interest because whereas he invited no risk, an element of doubt has entered into the transaction. If the borrower's credit is good, the interest charge is likely to be less.

But it is essential that the lender shall have the money to lend. That is altogether uncertain in this particular instance, for the lender, the United States, is heavily in debt, actually has to pay higher interest for the money it borrows from its own people than it is charging the British borrower. As a matter of fact, when Secretary of the Treasury Vinson was asked at a Senate Committee hearing to elaborate what interest he thought the American government would have to pay to borrow the money to lend to the British, he did not answer. And when asked if someone else in the Treasury would discuss this subject, he said, "No."

All this makes this loan operation exceedingly unbusiness-like. In fact, the loan takes on the appearance of a grant-in-aid while being advertised as a loan. A curious document was issued by Fred M. Vinson, James F. Byrnes, Henry A. Wallace, M. S. Eccles, William McC. Martin, Jr., all of the National Advisory Council of International Monetary and Financial Problems—in which the point is made, in favor of the loan, that:

"... Such a situation has already arisen, for instance, with reference to railroad equipment, machine tools, power and transmission equipment, and certain types of general industrial machinery. This is also true for some of the metals, heavy chemicals, synthetic rubber, and other industrial materials. Similarly, we have quantities of cotton, tobacco and other agricultural products which are surplus to domestic needs. It is fortunate that this excess productive capacity is for many items which are most urgently needed by the war-devastated countries."

Now, none of this is true. In fact, this country is frightfully short of these commodities. We are so short of railroad equipment that although the war has been over for months, it is still impossible to restore normal civilian transportation or to move agricultural products with essential rapidity. In spite of this lack of equipment, carloadings in the week of March 2 this year were only one per cent below a year ago when we were at war, which explains why transportation is so difficult.

As for machine tools, power and transmission equipment and industrial machinery, the shortages are so critical that the capital or consumers goods for which the entire country is weeping cannot be provided.

As for steel, the shortage is so keen that buyers practically stand on line to get their quotas. I recently tried to help a veteran who wanted to start a business of his own and bumped up personally and sharply against the shortage. Yet, this week, the American steel industry will produce 1,473,000 tons as compared with 1,731,000 tons a year ago.

I wonder if these great authorities would like to list the products of which there is an excess in this country or which we could afford to export right away. I should like to see some evidence of the excess, for instance, in cotton in the United States this week or last week or next week, in view of the shortage in shirts, underwear, cotton goods. Apparently this false argument is the best these men can do.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

In examining recruits for the army or candidates for life insurance physicians often find that in many cases the heart rate and the blood pressure is much above normal. These cases are told to report once or twice at later dates and the emotions are usually but not always lower.

Because we know that the emotions can cause this increase in heart rate and in blood pressure we are apt to think of it as free entirely of danger but unfortunately this is not true and we must learn to live on a less emotional plane if we would lengthen our life span.

The effects on our future health and on our life span by having transient (just a temporary) increase in heart rate and blood pressure is recorded by Drs. Robert L. Levy, New York, Paul D. White, Boston, William D. Stroud, Philadelphia, and Brigadier General Charles C. Hillman, United States Army in the Journal of the American Medical Association. These outstanding physicians in the field of heart and blood pressure disturbances, had the records of the physical examinations of 22,741 army officers, and made a special study of transient tachycardia, as rapid beating of the heart is called—a rate of 100 beats or over per minute. Transient or temporary hypertension (high blood pressure) was a reading of 150 mm. systolic and 90 diastolic.

These physicians found that the number of cases of transient tachycardia increased with age, up to 45 at which point there was no further increase. The transient tachycardia had a larger percentage of cases in which the rapid heart beat persisted and caused retirement from the service, than in the group which had no transient tachycardia at the time of their physical examination. However deaths from heart disease in these cases with transient tachycardia was only slightly higher than in those who did not have rapid heart beat. In cases of transient or temporary high blood pressure however at time of physical examination the death rate was higher than in those who were normal at examination.

The lesson is plain. Emotional disturbances, lack of nervous control, is often a forerunner of heart and blood vessel disease.

The World Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

(A.P. World Traveler)

Vienna, March 14—Your correspondent has come away from a highly interesting but informal conversation with General Mark Clark, American commander in chief in Austria, with the distinct impression that he would like to see all the Allied forces of occupation—Russian, British, French and American—withdrawn from this country by next fall and the administration turned over to the Austrian government.

As a matter of fact, I understand that there is before the Allied Council a proposal for a withdrawal. However, one suspects that the general is indulging in a wish rather than any strong expectation that such a withdrawal may take place.

While the British, French and Americans might be prepared to pull out under a four-power agreement, I found no indication that the Russians would subscribe to any such procedure at an early date. The signs have been that the Moscovites figure a long period of control in Austria to be necessary. Certainly there will be no withdrawal unless all four participate.

Cover Much Territory

I found General Clark viewing the Austrian position from a horse-sense standpoint based on a wide knowledge of the whole European problem. We covered a lot of territory in our conversation—and his vision reaches far beyond the borders of his personal command. It's my guess, too, that more than a bit of the humanitarian is involved in his calculations.

We had our chat in his private office at the American headquarters and he promptly robbed it of any formality by coming out from behind his big desk to shake hands in a friendly fashion and to lead me across the room to some easy chairs. I've met a lot of the Allied military chiefs but never had the pleasure of seeing General Clark before, and so may say in passing that he is what the G.I. would call a "good looking guy" and has the striking personality which one would expect to find in a four-star commander.

The picture wouldn't be complete if I didn't report that the general's constant companions, his cocker spaniel "Pal," made himself a member of the party by jumping to his master's knees to be petted. Clark grinned and introduced "Pal" with the remark that the last letter his wife wrote asked if "Pal" was getting his baths. Having heard that Mrs. Clark was coming to Austria, I asked when she was arriving, and the general's grin broadened as he opined she would be among the first contingent of soldiers' wives to arrive in this zone next month. It was clear he was as pleased as punch.

Financial Strain

I've referred to General Clark's horse-sense and humanitarian outlook. I believe one of his main reasons for wanting to see Austria turned back to its own government as soon as feasible is that the military occupation is a terrific financial strain on the little country and will bleed it white if long continued.

Austria, of course, hasn't been placed by the Allies in the category of Hitlerite Germany as a menace to peace. Austria was overrun by the Nazi dictator, and so was perhaps more sinned against than sinning, although that doesn't absolve her from blame. However, those are points I didn't discuss with General Clark and are my own observations.

By the way, I almost forgot to say that the general—and this will interest Mrs. Clark—is looking as fit as a professional athlete.

The chances of marriage for American girls are best in rural areas and improve as one proceeds from east to west.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Check Bulbs Now for Storage Decay

By DEAN HALIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

NOW IS THE time to give dahlia tubers, gladiolus corms or any other bulbs or roots in storage a "health inspection" to see if there is evidence of decay or mildew.

Excessive dampness and cold often causes tubers or bulbs to decay. A checkup at this time will prevent its spread.

If the dahlia tuber or any other bulb shows a soft spot, cut away the decaying portion with a sharp knife, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Be sure to cut back to a hard, clean part of the tuber or bulb.

Then cover the wound with a dusting of sulphur.

Also illustrated is the kind of a gladiolus bulb to discard from those in storage. Note the spotty lesions, either brown or black in color, which indicate that the bulb has dry rot, hard rot or scab. These diseases will cause the bulb to rot, with consequent loss of bloom.

If you plant infected corms there is danger of infecting the soil and spreading the disease to the clean plantings.

It is safest to plant gladiolus bulbs in a new location each year.

St. John's Church vestry in June, 1926, voted to sell the site of the Wall street church and parish house to Frank Forman for $110,000, if the sale was approved by the Diocese of New York.

Announcement of the proposed sale was made at the Sunday morning service by the Rev. Edward H. M. Knapp, rector of the church.

The proceeds from the sale, if consummated, were to be used in the purchase of a site on Albany avenue, and the re-erection of the Wall street edifice on the new site.

Older readers will recall the old church when it stood on Wall street, in the heart of the uptown business section. They will also recall when the old edifice was taken down and removed to the present site on Albany avenue.

It was also in June, 1926, that the Kingston Hospital took title to the L. F. Bannan house on Broadway, adjoining the hospital, as one of the steps taken that year in the expansion program of the hospital. The price paid for the house was not made public.

Later the Bannan house was razed, and the present modern Nurses' Home erected on the site. Older readers will recall that the house that was torn down had stood on Broadway for many years.

Turning to amateur theatricals, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Immanuel Lutheran Church on Livingston street, on June 8, 1926, presented the play, "The Twelve Old Maids" in the church hall.

Included in the cast were: Mrs. Jennie Petri, Mrs. Mildred Wendland, Mrs. Minnie Schloff, Marie Schroeder, Mrs. Marie Price, Carrie Wiedemann, Mrs. Mary Saehloff, Hilda Walker, Mrs. Mildred Buddenhagen, Mrs. Thille Messinger, Mrs. Lena Walker, Dorothy Goch, Lydia Goerke, Helen Gronemeyer, Mrs. Clara Fassbender, and Arthur Buddenhagen.

The Young People's Missionary Society of St. James Methodist Church on May 20, 1926, presented the play "A Bunch of Fun," written by Erastus Osgood, local playwright.

Among those appearing in the play that night were Harold DuBois, Hilda Baker, Marion Price, Winifred Bruce, Clifford Secor, Helen Segar, Marion Ackery, Mildred Thompson, Ernest Smith, Gertrude Terwilliger, Polande Green, Emerson Davis and Mildred Freer.

Mayor Morris Block on May 18, 1926, appointed Attorney Chris J. Flanagan as a member of the city zoning board to succeed Judge John G. Van Ert, who had resigned to become a member of the education board.

William C. DeWitt, city historian, on June 7, 1926, was appointed city treasurer by Mayor Morris Block to fill the vacancy of the election of Harry S. Jacobs as cashier of the city's water department.

Russia May Execute Complete Reversal of Her Policy When She Finds Herself Losing Friends in America

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 15—The American people will have to get used to frequent crises in world affairs and particularly to the devious ways of power politics.

The assumption of the man on the street is that when two powerful nations happen to differ and there are big headlines about it in the press, it is an occasion for alarm or apprehension and that war is in the offing.

Actually the situation precipitated by Russia is the direct result of the entrance of the United States into European affairs as pledged in the famous Yalta conference in 1945. When the United States government, through the action of the late President Roosevelt, pledged to underwrite the peace of Europe and to engage in separate agreements with Britain and Russia relative to the setting-up of new governments in the Balkans and the near east, this country acquired responsibilities it never before had undertaken.

The late President felt that, in the interest of preventing another World War, American participation in European matters was imperative. He hoped, of course, that the power politics of the big three set-up would be superseded by the proceedings of the United Nations, but unfortunately Russia's insistence on the exercise of a veto power in the security council threw the whole problem back on the big three.

So today when Britain, the United States and Russia are engaged in a long-range discussion on how to readjust the power of the world, The British have specific interests in preserving their empire and its lifeline to India, though southern Europe, the Suez canal, The Russians feel their newly won power and prestige and see no reason why Russia should not dominate Europe and the approaches to her territory in Asia.

Hitler had hoped to dominate Europe and to dominate the American continent, and he hoped to put Russia out of the way as he fought. But when Hitler's efforts failed, this left Russia and Britain to struggle for the mastery of Europe.

America, as the single mediating influence without any direct interest in European territory, can perhaps hold the scales even. But many of the Soviet's actions are inscrutable and the United States government is finding it increasingly difficult to reconcile Russia's methods of the United Nations Organization with the troop movements that always seem to precede her use of military pressure upon sovereign nations.

The reason why the Red armies aren't being withdrawn on time from Iran probably is related to the Russian desire to place her troops strategically on the Turkish border so as to coerce Turkey. It is the Dardanelles and the Mediterranean which Russia is aiming at, rather than domination of Iran alone.

Russia wants control of as much territory and resources as she can get. She knows Britain today is powerless to stop her. Hence Moscow is quick to accuse Britain of being a lackey lining up America on the side of the British. That is why Churchill's speech was so bitterly denounced by the controlled press of Russia.

A comparison of what Churchill said about Russia with what Secretary Evseev said in his address in New York a few days earlier indicates that the two men issued much the same warning about Russia's aggressive tendencies. Mr. Byrnes wasn't attacked by Moscow, though it is significant an effort is being made inside the United States—possibly to undermine the secretary by putting out frequent rumors about his resignation which are absolutely without foundation.

Russia plays a peculiar game, but the American people will have to get accustomed to the Russian propaganda methods and the use of force and pressure against weaker countries.

Sooner or later the opportunity to deny Russia things she most needs will come to the United States government as a trading point. There isn't a remote chance Russia will ever get the atom bomb secret from us. She will find it increasingly difficult to rehabilitate her image because she will have alienated the American people who could be very helpful to her. Russia is losing friends inside America very rapidly and it may be that before long she will come to realize it and execute a complete reversal, such some-saunts also are to be expected as part of the devices of the Communist school of thought.

TIME FOR RIGHT PEOPLE TO KEEP SHIRTS ON

Our Leftists are taking an awful beating. Their party line since V-E Day has been: "Side with Russia in everything—it's the only way to preserve 'unity' and preserving unity is the only way to avoid the atomic bomb war."

Now, our delegates to the UNO have given the "stop Stalin!" signal. Byrnes talks tough to Stalin. Britain's Scotland yard follows the Canadian spy arrests with seizures of pro-Russian scientists under the defense of the Realm Act. Truman is still too weak-kneed to permit

Edgar Hoover's F.B.I. and the Department of Justice to make similar open cases here, although everyone concerned admits the spying and betraying has been flagrant in the United States.

Stalin in either Britain or Canada. But the Department admits it has a lot of hordes and some women under long-time surveillance who are not far from prison. The excuse is that F.B.I. is leaving the Churches of Christ watching for more evidences of accomplices. Everybody concerned snickers at that and says the Department's compunction about acting is purely political.

Truman might as well "out" with it. Church's so-called "out" any madder at him than they are now. Stalin's "larger policy" will not veer one inch because of what we do or don't do about Communists here and spies who are inept enough to get caught.

Truman is tarred with the same stick as Churchill is so far as our Red-frontiers and Moscow are concerned. He left Winston after the Old Boys' Missouri speech and stopped off at Columbus, Ohio, to trade spiritual axioms with delegates of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ but that does not take much of the sting off, even though the inner guidance of this Federal Council has been exposed as composed of extreme Russian sympathizers such as Dr. Harry F. Ward of Union Theological Seminary, New York and a Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, who was recently nominated by left-wingers for headship of a new, United Protestant Church. Truman's philosophy of playing both sides by smiting Moscow and chucking Communist Fronters under the chin as childish and ineffective as J. Byrnes' tactics of talking tough to Moscow while joining its Communist stooges in France in intervention in Spain.

Our Leftist are burned up. They are as angry and nervous as a swarm of hornets whose nest is torn from its moorings. If you want to know their feelings in the most "restrained" language, listen to the "intellectual," Dr. Edward C. Carter, erstwhile vice-Chancellor of Columbia University, long-time travel-financed by Frederick Van Ness, Carter is long-time Secretary General of the Institute of Pacific Relations, an exposed political propaganda organization which operated with might and main on the Japanese Foreign Office Line until it was too late, and then swayed its obedience to Moscow. This Carter, who follows vainly petitioned Niles Trammell, President of National Broadcasting Company, to remove the writer from the air because he was "anti-Japanese" only ten days before Pearl Harbor. Carter now tells us he is trying to rebuild the Tanaka Memorial in 1926.

I refer him to the first English edition of that plot published in the United States in 1924 under the auspices of the Seattle American Legion (imprint, Columbia Press, Seattle) with introduction by the writer of this column.

Old Intellectual Carter has appropriated taken on the presidency of Russian War Relief. With Relief as his podium he is telling audiences that Churchill is as reverted to Russian-baiting as the writer of this column. The Quarantine under Communism, and that Moscow troops properly should fill the vacuum in Europe and Asia left by Anglo-Saxon recession. The Old Boy is deeply worried. He said he was now telling us he is trying to rebuild the Tanaka Memorial in 1926.

In Pittsburgh he got off in another man's shoes! You can take this as evidence of a strain that goes all the way to the Daily Worker office and the Communist Holy of Holies in Hollywood.

Now what I want to suggest about all this is that we of the Right who have clung to Reason have been "brotherhood with Russia" for the force that it is, since the days when Eleanor Roosevelt began to pamper the pinkie by parading the columnar hypocrisy would have to show its lineaments some time just as it is now doing—I want to suggest that you and I laugh cynically and keep our shirts on as AMER-ICANS and not get taken into the line of the pinkie by the more truth than fantasy in the Communist charge that this "talk tough to Russia program, since it had to come, was timed to scare or cajole us into making the British loan!"

The Administration is in such a bad way right now, what with Ickes showing up F.D.R.'s lack of morals more than Pauley's, even that it may crave a dangerous war situation with Soviet Russia, on the tried and tested F.D.R. formula of "new war was new emergency—new thing to rebel against."

But so far as you and I, AMERICANS, are concerned, the fact that the New Deal Administration and for a time present posterity to it favored and helped Soviet Russia is a painful flagrant and even treachery to American interests (to say nothing of British)—that fact is no excuse for the same Administration to start a war with Russia now for us to fight.

Let Jimmy Byrnes, who kissed Stalin with such gusto, take his humiliation interest in trying to save whose honor you and I have to give our blood!

GREAT ECUADOREAN

Ecuador, which is not generally regarded as one of the more advanced South American republics, may deserve more credit than it gets. Like other Latin American states, it has a statue in the Pan American Hall of Fame at Washington. Most countries put in generals or statesmen. Venezuela contributes Bolivar and Argentina San Martin, the two great winners of South American independence from the Spaniards. Other liberators commemorated are Chile's Bernardo O'Higgins and Bolivia's Antonio Jose de Sucre. Mexico chooses to be remembered by Benito Juarez, its president in the '60's who was of full Indian blood.

Ecuador's representative is not of this customary type. He is Francisco Eugenio Espejo, an 18th century author, the country's first librarian, editor of her first newspaper, and a forerunner of Pasteur in the study of microbes. A country which places a man of such quiet achievements as these above the more glamorous warriors and statesmen, should receive more attention.

Truman never expected to be President, but went along for the ride, and now he is finding the road full of unexpected bumps and chuck holes.

TOO CONFIDENT

The chief weakness of Americans, as a class, continues to be excessive self-confidence. This appeared in our war preparations and has appeared still more, perhaps, in our disarmament. General Eisenhower, in a recent report, tells of his disappointment in an inspection tour of army bases, which he says "shows a disorganization of our military strength almost to a point of impotence." In an uncertain world "we are making the future more uncertain by deliberately destroying the strongest agent we have to keep the peace." The greatest need today is trained men.

Surely if we are going to have an army at all in peace time (and the times require it) it should be well-disciplined and first-class in every respect. There is never any question as to how gallantly an American army will fight; but it is never safe or wise to relax the military skills essential to every fighting force.

Another public speaker announces that "what this country needs is clear thinking." What is clear thinking? Our kind, of course.

ICEBERGS FOR SHIPPING

The Titanic was thought unsinkable, but an iceberg sunk it. That may have been why in 1942 and 1943, as is now revealed, the American, Canadian and British governments experimented with the idea of building a 2,000,000 ton carrier out of icebergs to combat the submarine menace.

The project developed unexpected difficulties, and the submarine situation improved, causing the dropping of the scheme. The promoters may well have wished that they could harness some of the Antarctic icebergs. These are the largest in the world, some attaining a length of 40 miles. Only no way has been devised to get them through the warm waters of the equator, and have anything left for service in the northern seas.

The outlook for new cars is brightening. When they come, they will at least provide some sort of sleeping space, and so may relieve the housing shortage.

GENEROUS GRADUATE

One devoted college graduate can do a good deal for his college. Macalester College in St. Paul has received nearly 1,000 American hymn-books, said to be the greatest collection of its kind in the United States. The giver is Arthur Billings Hunt, a baritone and musical director from Brooklyn, N. Y., who served as director of music in the European war zone. He had already given his college a valuable library of first editions of musical pieces; now he has placed it in the front rank for hymn books.

Macalester College may not be the largest,

THE LOAN AGREEMENT

When Joseph P. Kennedy suggested that the United States Make Great Britain a grant-in-aid rather than a loan, he bespoke honesty of purpose, for by no stretch of the imagination, even of politicians, it is possible to call the current transaction between these countries a loan.

For a loan involves an absolute assurance of a return. The lender assumes no risk at all. He takes into account the ability of the borrower to meet his obligations and should he find them inadequate or doubtful, he does not make the loan. He demands security to eliminate risk. The required security depends upon the degree of certainty of the ability of the borrower to repay. The lender wants not only a return of his money but a reward for its use by the borrower. This is interest. If the borrower's credit is poor, he charges a higher interest because whereas he invited no risk, an element of doubt has entered into the transaction. If the borrower's credit is good, the interest charge is likely to be less.

But it is essential that the lender shall have the money to lend. That is altogether uncertain in this particular instance, for the lender, the United States, is heavily in debt, actually has to pay higher interest for the money it borrows from its own people than it is charging the British borrower. As a matter of fact, when Secretary of the Treasury Vinson was asked at a Senate Committee hearing to elaborate what interest he thought the American government would have to pay to borrow the money to lend to the British, he did not answer. And when asked if someone else in the Treasury would discuss this subject, he said, "No."

All this makes this loan operation exceedingly unbusiness-like. In fact, the loan takes on the appearance of a grant-in-aid while being advertised as a loan. A curious document was issued by Fred M. Vinson, James F. Byrnes, Henry A. Wallace, M. S. Eccles, William McC. Martin, Jr.—all of the National Advisory Council of International Monetary and Financial Problems—in which the point is made, in favor of the loan, that: "Such a situation has already arisen, for instance, with reference to railroad equipment, machine tools, power and transmission equipment, and certain types of general industrial machinery. This is also true for some of the metals, heavy chemicals, synthetic rubber, and other industrial materials. Similarly, we have quantities of cotton, tobacco and other agricultural products which are surplus to domestic needs. It is fortunate that this excess productive capacity is for many items which are most urgently needed by the war-devastated countries."

Now, none of this is true. In fact, this country is frightfully short of these commodities. We are so short of railroad equipment that although the war has been over for months, it is still impossible to restore normal civilian transportation or to move agricultural products with essential rapidity. In spite of this lack of equipment, loadings in the week of March 2 this year were only one per cent below a year ago when we were at war, which explains why transportation is so difficult.

As for machine tools, power and transmission equipment and industrial machinery, the shortages are so critical that the capital or consumers goods for which the entire country is weeping cannot be provided.

As for steel, the shortage is so keen that buyers practically stand on line to get their quotas. I recently tried to help a veteran who wanted to start a business of his own, and bumped up personally and sharply against the shortage. Yet, this week, the American steel industry will produce 1,473,000 tons as compared with 1,731,000 tons a year ago.

I wonder if these great authorities would like to list the products of which there is an excess in this country or which we could afford to export right away. I should like to see some evidence of the excess, for instance, in cotton in the United States this week or last week or next week, in view of the shortage in shirts, underwear, cotton goods. Apparently this false argument is the best these men can do.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

In examining recruits for the army or candidates for life insurance physicians often find that in many cases the heart rate and the blood pressure is much above normal. These cases are told to report once or twice at later dates and the rates are usually but not always lower.

Because we know that the emotions can cause this increase in heart rate and in blood pressure we are apt to think of it as free entirely of danger but unfortunately this is not true and we must learn to live on a less emotional plane if we would lengthen our life span.

The effects on our future health and on our life span by having transient (just a temporary) increase in heart rate and blood pressure is recorded by Drs. Robert L. Levy, New York, Paul D. White, Boston, William D. Stroud, Philadelphia, and Brigadier General Charles C. Hillman, United States Army in the Journal of the American Medical Association. These outstanding physicians in the field of heart and blood pressure disturbances, had the records of the physical examinations of 22,741 Army officers, and made a special study of transient tachycardia, as rapid beating of the heart is called—a rate of 100 beats or over per minute. Transient or temporary hypertension (high blood pressure) was a reading of 150 mm. systolic and 90 diastolic.

These physicians found that the number of cases of transient tachycardia increased with age, up to 45 at which point there was no further increase. The transient tachycardia had a larger percentage of cases in which the rapid heart beat persisted and caused retirement from the service than in the group which had no transient tachycardia at the time of their physical examination. However deaths from heart disease in these cases with transient tachycardia was only slightly higher than in those who did not have rapid heart beat. In cases of transient or temporary high blood pressure however at time of physical examination the death rate was higher than in those who were normal at examination.

The lesson is plain. Emotional disturbances, lack of nervous control, is often a forerunner of heart and blood vessel disease.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
 (A.P. World Traveler)

Vienna, March 14—Your correspondent has come away from a highly interesting but informal conversation with General Mark Clark, American commander in chief in Austria, with the distinct impression that he would like to see all the Allied forces of occupation—Russian, British, French and American—withdrawn from this country by next fall and the administration turned over to the Austrian government.

As a matter of fact, I understand that there is before the Allied Council a proposal for a withdrawal. However, one suspects that the general is indulging in a wish rather than any strong expectation that such a withdrawal may take place. While the British, French and American forces are still in Austria, I pulled out under a four-power agreement, I found no indication that the Russians would subscribe to any such procedure at an early date. The signs have been that the Moscovites figure a long period of control in Austria to be necessary. Certainly there will be no withdrawal unless all four participate.

Cover Much Territory

I found General Clark viewing the Austrian position from a horse-sense standpoint based on a wide knowledge of the whole European problem. We covered a lot of territory in our conversation—and his vision reaches far beyond the borders of his personal command. It's my guess, too, that more than a bit of the humanitarianism is involved in his calculations.

We had our chat in his private office at the American headquarters and he promptly robbed it of any formality by coming out from behind his big desk to shake hands in a friendly fashion and then leading me across the room to some easy chairs. I've met a lot of the Allied military chiefs but never had the pleasure of seeing General Clark before, and so may say in passing that he is what the G.I. would call a "good looking guy" and has the striking personality which one would expect to find in a four-star commander.

The picture wouldn't be complete if I didn't report that the general's constant companions, his cocker spaniel "Pal," made himself a member of the party by jumping to his master's knees to be petted. Clark grinned and introduced "Pal" with the remark that the last letter his wife wrote asked if "Pal" was getting his baths. Having heard that Mrs. Clark was coming to Austria, I asked when she was arriving, and the general's grin broadened as he opined she would be among the first contingent of soldiers' wives to arrive in this zone next month. It was clear he was as pleased as punch.

I've referred to General Clark's horse-sense and humanitarian outlook. I believe one of his main reasons for wanting to see Austria turned back to its own government as soon as feasible is that the military occupation is a terrific financial strain on the little country and will bleed it white if long continued.

Austria, of course, hasn't been placed by the Allies in the category of Hitlerite Germany as a menace to peace. Austria was overrun by the Nazi dictator, and so was perhaps more sinned against than sinning, although that doesn't absolve her from blame. However, those are points I didn't discuss with General Clark and are my own observations.

By the way, I almost forgot to say that the general—and this will interest Mrs. Clark—is looking as fit as a professional athlete.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

St. John's Church vestry in June, 1926, voted to sell the site of the Wall street church and parish house to Frank Forman for $110,000, if the sale was approved by the Diocese of New York. Announcement of the proposed sale was made at the Sunday morning service by the Rev. Edward H. M. Knapp, rector of the church.

The proceeds from the sale, if consummated, were to be used in the purchase of a site on Albany avenue, and the re-erection of the Wall street edifice on the new site.

Older readers will recall the old church when it stood on Wall street, in the heart of the uptown business section. They will also recall when the old edifice was taken down and removed to the present site on Albany avenue.

It was also in June, 1926, that the Kingston Hospital took title to the site of the old church, and, adjoining the hospital, as one of the steps taken that year in the expansion program of the hospital. The price paid for the house was not made public.

Later the Bannan house was razed, and the present modern Nurses' Home erected on the site. Older readers will recall that the house that was torn down had stood on Broadway for many years.

Turning to amateur theatricals, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Immanuel Lutheran Church on Livingston street, on June 8, 1926, presented the play, "The Twelve Old Maids" in the church hall. Included in the cast were Mrs. Jennie Petri, Mrs. Mildred Wendland, Mrs. Minnie Sahlhoff, Marie Schroeder, Mrs. Marie Price, Carrie Wiedemann, Mrs. Mary Saehloff, Hilma Walker, Mrs. Mildred Buddenhagen, Mrs. Thille Messing, Mrs. Lena Walker, Dorothy Kock, Lydia Goerke, Helen Gronemeyer, Mrs. Clara Fassbender, and Arthur Buddenhagen.

The Young People's Missionary Society of St. James Methodist Church on May 20, 1926, presented the play "A Bunch of Fun," written by Erastus Osgood, local playwright.

Among those appearing in the play that night were Harold DuBois, Hila Baker, Marion Price, Winifred Bruce, Clifford Secor, Helen Segar, Marion Ackery, Mildred Thompson, Ernest Smith, Gertrude Terwilliger, Roland Green, Emerson Davis and Mildred Freer.

Mayor Morris Block on May 18, 1926, appointed Attorney Chris J. Flanagan as a member of the city zoning board, a board of five.

John G. Van Etten, who had resigned to become a member of the education board.

William C. DeWitt, city historian, on June 7, 1926, was appointed city treasurer by Mayor Morris Block to fill the vacancy of the election of Harry S. Jacobs as cashier of the city's water department.

March 15, 1926—Death of Mrs. Charles E. Wright of Lucas avenue extension.

Mrs. R. Lionel DeLisser, formerly of Kingston, died in Brooklyn.

Clarence H. Hattenbeck of Wall street died. For 32 years he had been employed in the clothing store of Sam Bernstein & Co. on Wall street.

Mrs. George Main died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Wilkins, in Poughkeepsie.

Kingston Concert Orchestra, sponsored by the W.P.A. Federal Music Project, gave fine concert in the municipal auditorium here.

Russia May Execute Complete Reversal of Her Policy When She Finds Herself Losing Friends in America

By DAVID LAWRENCE

By DAVID LAWRENCE
 Washington, March 15 — The American people will have to get used to frequent crises in world affairs and particularly to the devious ways of power politics.

The assumption of the man on the street is that when two powerful nations happen to differ and there are big headlines about it in the press, it is an occasion for alarm or apprehension and that war is in the offing.

Actually the situation precipitated by Russia is the direct result of the entrance of the United States into European affairs as pledged in the famous Yalta conference in 1945. When the United States government, through the action of the late President Roosevelt, promised to underwrite the peace of Europe and to engage in separate agreements with Britain and Russia relative to the setting-up of new governments in the Balkans and the near east, this country acquired responsibilities it never before had to discharge. The late President felt that, in the interest of preventing another World War, American participation in European matters was imperative. He hoped, of course, that the power politics of a big three set-up would be superior to the proceedings of the United Nations, but unfortunately Russia's insistence on the exercise of a veto power in the security council threw the whole problem back on the big three.

So today Great Britain, the United States and Russia are engaged in a long-range discussion on how to readjust the power of the world. The British have specific interests in preserving their empire and its lifeline to India through southern Europe and the Suez canal. The Russians feel their newly won power and prestige and see no reason why Russia should not dominate Europe and the approaches to her territory in Asia.

Hitler had hoped to dominate Europe and failed. He thought Britain the real barrier to Germany's ambitions, and he hoped to put Russia out of the way as he fought. But when Hitler's efforts failed, this left Russia and Britain to struggle for the mastery of Europe.

America, as the single mediating influence without any direct interest in European territory, perhaps hold the scales even. But many of the Soviet's actions are inscrutable and the United States government is finding it increasingly difficult to reconcile Russia's professed interest in the peaceful methods of the United Nations Organization with the troop movements that always seem to precede her use of military pressure upon sovereign nations.

The reason why the Red armies aren't being withdrawn on time from Iran probably is related to the Russian desire to place her troops strategically on the Turkish border so as to coerce Turkey. It is the Dardanelles and the Mediterranean which Russia is aiming at, rather than domination of Iran alone.

Russia wants control of as much territory and resources as she can get. She knows Britain today is powerless to stop her. Hence Moscow is quick to accuse Britain of being desirous of lining up America on the side of the British. That is why Churchill's speech was so bitterly denounced by the controlled press of Russia. A comparison of what Churchill really said about Russia with what Secretary Byrnes said in his address in New York a few days earlier indicates that the two men issued much the same warning about Russia's aggressive tendencies.

Mrs. Byrnes wasn't attacked by Moscow, though it is significant that the effort is being made inside the United States—possibly traceable to certain Left-Wingers—to undermine the secretary by putting out frequent rumors about his resignation which are absolutely without foundation.

Russia plays a peculiar game but the American people will have to get accustomed to the Russian propaganda methods and the use of force and pressure against weaker countries.

Sooner or later the opportunity to deny Russia things she most needs will come to the United States government as a trading point. There is a severe chance Russia will ever get the atomic bomb secret from us. She will find it increasingly difficult to rehabilitate her own country, because she will have alienated the American people who could be very helpful to her. Russia is losing friends inside America very rapidly and it may be that before long she will come to realize it and execute a complete reversal, such somersaults also are to be expected as part of the devices of the Communist school of thought.

TIME FOR RIGHT PEOPLE TO KEEP SHIRTS ON

Our Leftists are taking an awful beating. Their party line about Russia has been shown to be the only way to preserve "unity" and preserving unity is the only way to avoid the atomic bomb war.

Now, our delegates to the UNO have given the "stop Stalin" signal. Byrnes talks tough to Stalin. Britain's Scotland Yard follows the Canadian spy arrests with seizures of pro-Russian scientists under the defense of the Realm Act. Truman is still too weak-kneed to permit Edgar Hoover, F.B.I., and the Department of Justice to make similar open cases here, although everyone concerned admits the spying and betraying has been more rampant in the United States than in either Britain and Canada. But the Department admits it has a lot of hombies and some women under long-time surveillance who are not far from prison. The excuse is that F.B.I. is leaving them at liberty while watching for more evidences and accomplices. Everybody concerned snickers at that and says the Department is purely political.

Truman might as well "out" with it. Our Reds will not get any madder at him than they are now. Stalin's "larger policy" will not veer one inch because of what we do or don't do about Communists here and spies who are inept enough to get caught.

Truman is tarred with the same stick as Churchill, so far as our Red-frontiers and Moscow are concerned. He left Winston after the Old Boys' Missouri speech and stopped off at Columbus, Ohio, to trade spiritual axioms with delegates of the Federal Council off, even though the inner guidance of this Federal Council has been exposed as composed of extreme Russian sympathizers such as Dr. Harry F. Ward of Union Theological Seminary, New York, and Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, who was recently nominated by left-wingers for headship of a new, United Protestant Church. Truman's philosophy of playing both sides by smiting Moscow and chucking Communist Fronters under the chin is as childish and ineffective as J. Byrnes' tactics of talking tough to Moscow while making his Communist stooges in France intervene in Spain.

Our Leftists are burned up. They are as angry and vicious as a swarm of hornets whose nest is torn from their wrappings. If you want to know their feelings, listen to their "intellectual" Dr. Edward C. Carter, erstwhile of Columbia University, long-time travel-financed by Frederick Vandenberg Field, editor of New Masses. Carter is long-time Secretary General of the Institute of Pacific Relations, an exposed political propaganda organization which operated with might and main on the Japanese Foreign Office Line until it was too late, and then switched its obedience of Moscow. This Carter and fellows vainly petitioned Niles Trammell, president of National Broadcasting Company, to remove the writer from the air because he was "anti-Japanese" only a few days before Pearl Harbor. Carter now tells audiences he exposed the Tanaka Memorial in 1929. I refer him to the first English edition of the plot published in the United States in 1924 under the auspices of the Seattle American Legion (imprint, Columbia Press, Seattle) with an introduction by the writer of this column.

Old Intellectual Carter has appropriately taken on the presidency of Russian War Relief. With Relief as his podium he is telling audiences that Churchill has reverted to Russian-baiting and Truman is trying to rebuild the Quarantine around Communism, and that Moscow troops properly should fill the vacuum in Europe and Asia left by Anglo-Saxon recession. The Old is deeply worried. He gets frenzied with anger and things on trains. At Pittsburgh he got off in another man's shoes! You can take this as evidence of a strain that goes all the way to the Daily Worker office and the Communist Holy of Holies in Hollywood.

Now what I want to suggest about all this is that we of the Right who have clung to Reason have been "brotherhood" with Russia for the force that it is. Since the days when Eleanor Roosevelt began to pamper the pinkies—we who knew that the hypocrisy would have to show its lineaments some time or other—is now doing it. I want to suggest that you ask I laugh cynically and keep your shirts on. AMERICANS and not get taken into the BRITISH camp. There is more truth than fantasy in the Communist charge that this "talk tough to Russia program, since it had to come, was timed to scare or cajole us into making the British loan!"

The Administration is in such a bad way right now, what with Ickes showing up F.D.R.'s lack of morals more than Pauley's, war situation with Soviet Russia on the tried and tested formula of "new war scare, new emergency—new lease of power," that you ask I want to suggest that you ask I laugh cynically and keep your shirts on. AMERICANS and not get taken into the BRITISH camp. There is more truth than fantasy in the Communist charge that this "talk tough to Russia program, since it had to come, was timed to scare or cajole us into making the British loan!"

The first real settlement at what is now the city of Sydney, Australia, was established on January 1788.

Clinton Avenue Methodists Hold Quarterly Session

The Fourth Quarterly Conference of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church was held in the assembly room Tuesday evening, March 12.

Following a brief worship service, Dr. A. G. Carroll, district superintendent, conducted the business session.

Reports were given from the various departments. The Woman's Society of Christian Service and all organized classes have contributed to the support of the church and have substantial balances on hand.

The church officers for the new year are: recording steward, D. N. Secore; disbursing steward, A. N. Stall; financial secretary, Mrs. M. B. Cranston; World Service treasurer, W. H. Petherbridge; Board of Trustees, B. Schepmoes, F. S. Hyatt, W. E. Hyatt, Clarence Carle, D. N. Secore, V. S. Miller, A. W. Stall, H. A. Miner, Jason Carle.

The pastor, the Rev. W. R. Peckham in his report mentioned some of the highlights of the year: two services of thanksgiving at the close of the war; a special Rally Day service in connection with the evangelistic program of the Crusade for Christ; celebration of the 90th anniversary of Clinton Avenue Methodist church; entertainment of the New York Conference in September and special services of thanksgiving for the return of our servicemen of which 136 have returned to date.

The Rev. Mr. Peckham expressed appreciation for the friendship of the members of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

Following the pastor's report, E. B. Schepmoes extended to Dr. Carroll and his family good wishes in his new assignment following the annual conference session in May. The associations during Dr. Carroll's six years as district superintendent have been pleasant ones. A unanimous request was made for the return of the Rev. William R. Peckham and Mrs. Peckham for another year with an increase of salary.

The conference closed with the benediction.

It was no tax on your memory to remember March 15—but there was a tax on everything else.

Sweet Young Thing (disgustedly)—My boy friend has cold feet.
Old Maid—Shame on you, young lady! In my day we didn't find those things out until after we were married.

To Navigation Officer "Light Horse Harry" Hawkins of the U. S. Navy, who is a bit of a philosopher: "There are three ways of getting to know a man. In the Naval Academy it takes four years; in a poker game it takes four hours; in a battle, four minutes."

Ward Heeler (to political boss)—How about the loan of a 10-spot?
The boss peered off a five-spot.
Ward Heeler (protesting)—But I asked you for a sawbuck!
Boss—Yeah, I know. But this way we both lose five bucks.

Keep trying—very often it is the last key that opens the lock.

Now YOU tell one!

Young Wife—I bought three or four hams here a month ago and they were fine. Have you any more of them?

Grocer—Yes, ma'am. There are 10 of those hams hanging up there now.

Young Wife—Well, if they're off the same pig, I'll take three of them.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

Cairo, March 14 (AP)—Egypt is the world capital of the "go-getter" street salesman.

If you think you can get out of Cairo without buying a horsetail fly swatter, a braided leather blackjack or a 1937 issue of "Paris Nights" you reckon without these nightrobed Abdullahs.

They are the most passionately verbal peddlers on the face of the globe and make the average college boy brush salesman back home look like a shrinking mite with an inferiority complex.

They usually hang out around the leading hotels—Shepherd's Curb is one of their favorite haunts—and prey on tourists.

The only place you are really safe from them, however, is inside Cheops' old tomb in the biggest pyramid at Gizeh, and even here guides are likely to beat you across the skull with postcards until you buy a true fragment from one of the Pharaoh's toenails.

The other day I was riding along in a two-horse gharry when one of these portable native dime stores bore down on me through the traffic. Before I could leap out and run into a movie—that slows down these fellows because they hate to buy tickets—he had climbed into the seat opposite me and began waving a fistful of riding crops and swagger sticks in my eyeballs.

He was a husky young Arab about 15 years old and I could tell from the way his red tarboosh cocked over one ear that his pocketbook was in for trouble.

"How much you give?" he asked.

"Look Abdullah," I told him, "I don't need a riding crop because I don't own a horse. I don't want a swagger stick because I am too tired to swagger. Besides my import-export balance is already unbalanced and in the first place I don't want to buy anything anyway."

"You mean you don't want? said Abdullah in utter disbelief, as if this had never happened to him before. Then he leered over at me and asked: "You like pretty girls?"

"Abdullah," I answered suspiciously, "who doesn't?"

Has Ellixir of Youth Too

Abdullah reached deep into his striped kimono and pulled out a small jar which he surreptitiously handed over to me after a well staged glance around as if to see no police were looking.

"How much you give?" He said "very good, very good. Many Yank soldiers buy this from Abdullah."

The box contained "elixir of youth," which modestly proclaimed itself to be a "veritable open sesame" to elderly people who would for a time re-enter the portals of the real of youth.

"Now Abdullah really," I said, handing back the box, "do I look like I need an ellixir of youth?"

Abdullah shrugged noncommittally. He reached deep into his bathrobe and began pulling out more wares.

Variety of Wares

First he tried to sell me some "feetly pictures" which looked suspiciously like old photos of the keystone comedy guys in bathing suits, and would easily have been passed even by Boston censors.

Next came shoe polish, razor blades, scenic views of the Nile river, blackjacks, bottles of synthetic perfume and some synthetic scarabs.

My resistance cracked when he hauled out several horsetail fly swatters. He said that even if there weren't many flies I could use the swatter to "brush beggars away."

I finally bought one for 25 piastres—one dollar—after he came down from 60 piastres. An Egyptian friend later told me it was worth 10 piastres.

In Cairo, It Is Possible

"You want to buy something else?" asked Abdullah. "I find you anything."

I thought I would stump him at last.

"Matter of fact, Abdullah," I told him with a deadpan expression, "I am in the market for a combination icebox-radio and a phonograph with mothproof lower drawer to keep my stamp collection. But it's so late in the afternoon now I don't suppose you can find one for me today."

"No," said Abdullah, "what time you want it tomorrow?"

In Cairo—it is possible.

Seagulls Tugs Sought

Madagascar is in the market for 10 seagoing tugboats and American firms are being asked to bid on them, Tananarive, the capital, reports. Preference is expressed for tugs equipped with diesel motors with reversing gears and 35 to 50 horsepower.

San Francisco is planning two huge trading centers resembling New York's Rockefeller Center.

Next came shoelaces, razor blades, scenic views of the Nile river, blackjacks, bottles of Egyptian perfume and some synthetic scarabs.

My resistance cracked when he hauled out several horsetail fly swatters. He said that even if there weren't many flies in Cairo, use the swatter to "brush beggars away."

I finally bought one for 25 piastres—one dollar—after he came down from 60 piastres. An Egyptian friend later told me it was well worth 10 piastres.

In Cairo, It is Possible
"You want to buy something else?" asked Abdullah. "I find you anything."

"Matter of fact, Abdullah," I told him with a deadpan expression. "I am in the market for a combination icebox-radio and a phonograph with mothproof drawer to keep my stamp collection. But it's so late in the afternoon now I don't suppose you can find one for me today."

"No," said Abdullah, "what time you want it tomorrow?"

In Cairo—it is possible.

Army Plans Speedier Discharge of Officers

Washington, March 14 (AP)—The War Department announced today it intended to speed the discharge of more than 47,000 officers.

The action came amidst persistent rumors that the Army had alerted reserves because of the tense international situation. The department said such reports were "without foundation."

Under instructions sent to all commands, most officers with two years service as of next August 31 will be released by that date provided they wish to return to civil life.

Exceptions are Regular, Medical Corps officers, those who volunteer to remain longer in certain scarce categories.

Commerce Dep't Operation Discussed at Kiwanis Club

Dale Swartsmiller, regional director of the State Department of Commerce and who is in charge of the newly opened field office of the department at 442 Broadway, Kingston, was the guest speaker at Kiwanis Thursday noon.

Mr. Swartsmiller discussed the general set-up of the State Department, what it can do and some of its most important activities. Noting that the department functions are carried on under three bureaus—industry, publicity and planning—the speaker told briefly of the work assigned to each bureau.

The Bureau of Industry investigates, studies and undertakes ways and means of promoting and protecting the industry of the state; promotes expansion and development of markets, encourages new business and the maintenance and expansion of existing business; plans business information services; develops scientific business indices and studies industrial trends and developments.

The Bureau of Publicity makes known the advantage of the state for business and residence purposes; collects and distributes information and literature on the state's facilities and attractions; and gives special attention to dissemination of publicity designed to attract tourists.

The Bureau of Planning studies changes in population and current trends; cooperates with state departments and agencies, cooperates with local plans and developments; makes studies of suggested laws and law changes in interest of business men and makes recommendations.

Mr. Swartsmiller said that the Kingston field office was more or less the eyes and ears of the State Department in securing information, but it also gave out information when it could be done properly.

The Kingston area was found to be very desirable one. There are here all the factors industry is looking for, he said—except perhaps the matter of housing.

The necessity of having some industry to "take" the slack was emphasized. Although small business is important you can't have prosperity without industry, it was declared. It was found to be up to the people of the community whether or not needed industry was secured.

Purely a service agency, the Kingston office of the Department of Commerce will be glad to do anything it can to help, said Mr. Swartsmiller.

Loughran Honored

Thursday was the birthday anniversary of former Kiwanis Lieutenant Governor Roger H. Loughran. As part of the observance he was presented with a cake bearing one lighted candle. Roger observed that the one candle probably was due to the fact that it was all the cake could accommodate. He trusted that the good will being expressed was in inverse ratio to the size of the cake.

It was announced that 11 members so far had signed their intention to visit Mahopac Tuesday night, March 19, when the Putnam county club will celebrate Lieutenant Governor Roger H. Loughran.

Lieut. Governor E. M. Huben. Delegations from the seven Kiwanis clubs in the second division will be present for the occasion.

Verdict in Ellenville Taxi Case Not Accepted

The case against George R. VanAken of Ellenville, charged with hacking for hire, without a village taxi permit and with having improper license plates, was tried before Police Justice Benjamin Lonsdale and a jury Monday night. The hearing lasted for four hours. At its conclusion the jury brought in a verdict of guilty with recommendation of leniency. The court refused to accept the verdict with the recommendation of leniency. When the jury was polled Nial Moshier, one of the jurors, would not agree to the guilty verdict without the recommendation. Accordingly the jury was dismissed and the case set down for another trial. Charles F. Kaiser, Jr., represented the district attorney. John A. Bonomi appearing for the defendant. The violation charged happened a month or so ago.

Stolen Car Found

John R. Sutton of Hurley Thursday afternoon parked his car on the parking grounds at the Benedictine Hospital, and at 3:34 o'clock that afternoon he called police headquarters, reporting the car had been stolen. At 4:15 o'clock the police received word that the auto had been found on Greenkill avenue by Deputy Sheriff Gilmore. Mr. Sutton was notified.

Pravda Predicts Russia's Enemies Would Lose War

London, March 15 (P)—A Pravda editorial broadcast by the Moscow radio declared today that any "author of new race theories" would suffer the same fate as that which befell the Nazis if the Soviet Union is threatened.

Emphasizing Generalissimo Stalin's attack Wednesday on Winston Churchill for advocating what Stalin termed Hitler-like race theories the Communist Party organ asserted:

"The German Fascists who chose as their ideological weapon one hated by men—race theory—were totally crushed in war. A similar fate will befall the author of new race theories if they dare raise their sword against the freedom and independence of our country."

Meanwhile, the London Daily Herald, Labor Party organ, carried in a front page editorial that Churchill "confine his eloquence to harmless themes" in his broadcast tonight in New York.

"If the British people wanted him as their spokesman in peace time they would have voted for him in July, 1945," the paper said.

Defends Churchill

The Madrid radio last night came to Churchill's defense with a broadcast denial that the former British Prime Minister had "uttered any threat against Moscow" in his March 5 speech at Fulton, Mo.

"Russia not only terrorizes the small nations but also seriously menaces the great powers," the broadcast said.

In Capetown, South Africa, Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts told the South African Parliament he had no intention of defending Churchill's speech but expressed doubt that it could lead to a new war.

Resigns After 49 Years With Ellenville Bank

Miss Anna B. Hoornbeek, teller of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Ellenville, today terminated her official connection with that institution, after 49 years of service. Miss Hoornbeek entered the employ of the bank in 1897 as a bookkeeper and has faithfully served its interests since that time. She tendered her resignation on March 12 and it was accepted by the directors in a resolution that testified to her loyal and efficient service during all these years. Miss Frances M. Moshier succeeds Miss Hoornbeek as teller.

Reports Dog Bite

Mrs. David Whipple of 213 Catherine street reported to the police Thursday evening that her son, Erving, aged three years, had been bitten on the face, near the right eye, by a dog. She said that the dog was owned by a family named Rickert of 219 Catherine street. The boy's wound was treated at the Kingston Hospital.

Denies Rift

Going out of his way to do so, Mr. Truman asserted there never has been any rift between him and Byrnes, and that Byrnes is not going to resign.

While strengthening Byrnes' position in handling American diplomacy, Mr. Truman made plain that he himself is largely abstaining at present from active intervention in the conduct of foreign policy.

The President was bombarded with reporters' questions relating to relations with Russia, but his replies were noncommittal.

REPORT REDS MOVE TOWARD TURKEY

A column of Russian troops, moving northward from Tabriz, was reported to have swung westward (arrow) toward the Turkish border. Shaded area is approximately that controlled by Russia in Iran. Black area is counties of Ardahan and Kars, given to Turkey by treaty in 1921, which the Soviet has asked be returned.

German Marshal Reported Suicide

Von Model, Trapped in the Ruhr, Chose Death to Capture by Allies

Heford, Germany, March 15 (P)—Field Marshal Walther von Model, who had been hunted since his army was crushed in the Ruhr trap a year ago, took his own life with a revolver, April 21, 1945, British Intelligence officers said today.

They said he feared that if he surrendered himself to the western Allies he would be turned over to the Russians as a war criminal.

Von Model's suicide and secret commander on the Russian front prior to being transferred to the Western Front, was among the German officers accused by Russia of being responsible for deaths of 577,000 persons in concentration camps in Latvia and the deportation of 175,000 others as slave laborers.

The accusations were contained in a report last April 9 by a Soviet investigation committee.

The report said "German fiends" under von Model "spared no one. They murdered men and women, healthy and sick, children and old people" in mass extermination camps near Riga.

Von Model's suicide and secret burial occurred in Duisburg, Germany, after his German Fifth Panzer and 15th Armies had been annihilated, the intelligence officer said. Model commanded Army Group G, which was trapped in the Ruhr by a First and Ninth U. S. Army Junction April 1.

Hoover Again Pleads For Reduced Eating

New York, March 15 (P)—Famine in Europe and Asia, already killing "many thousands," may yet take a greater toll unless Americans eat less until the foreign harvest next July, says Herbert Hoover.

"The amount of breadstuffs now visible to supply these people from the surplus countries is about 450,000,000 bushels," he said in a radio broadcast (NBC) last night. "But that is about 400,000,000 bushels short of enough to maintain their present meagre rations until the next harvest comes."

"Saving of human life is a moral and spiritual duty. Today we are faced with areas in 20 nations where over 500 million people are in danger of starvation during the next 120 days."

Carey's Insurance Firm Moves to New Building

Carey's Insurance Agency, which has been located at 53 John street for the past 27 years, today is in its new offices in the LeFever Building at 292 Fair street, opposite the Stuyvesant Hotel.

The insurance business was established by former Mayor Eugene B. Carey on April 1, 1919, immediately following his discharge from the U. S. Army. The business was established with the late Parker K. Brinrier as a member of the firm.

The Carey's Agency was the headquarters for World War 1 veterans for many years, due to the fact that Mr. Carey was serving as adjutant of Kingston Post of the American Legion.

The building at 53 John street is to be torn down to make way for the improvements to the State of New York National Bank building.

President Seeks More Jobs for Veterans

Washington, March 15 (P)—With nearly 1,500,000 veterans drawing unemployment pay, President Truman has asked employers everywhere to list their job openings with the U. S. Employment Service at once.

This has a two-fold advantage, Mr. Truman said in a statement yesterday. It helps the worker learn up the best available job, and the employer to find the person best qualified.

"Demobilization is now reaching its peak and the rapid redeployment of our discharged servicemen is a matter of high national importance," Mr. Truman said.

A suitable job "promptly and without unnecessary shopping around" is vital to the veteran's readjustment, the President added. He spoke for the displaced war worker as well, urging that the search for employment not be made "unnecessarily burdensome."

Births Recorded

The following births have been reported to the Board of Health: Mr. and Mrs. Rene Brandon of 60 Franklin street, a son, Eugene Charles, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tachett of Tillson, a son, Henry Earl, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie T. Van Benschotten of 438 Albany avenue, a son, Terry Lee, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Simone J. Castiglione of 145½ Downs street, a daughter, Elizabeth Sandra, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Waterman, Sr. of 110 Gage street, a son, Erle William, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Banks of 45 Murray street, a son, Jesse George, in Kingston Hospital.

Woman Arrested

Attlee Upholds India's Right to Seek Its Freedom

London, March 15 (P)—Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons today that if India chooses full independence from Britain "in our view she has the right to do so."

"It will be for us to help to make the transition as free and easy as possible," he declared during debate on the mission of three cabinet members who will go to India shortly to take up again the problem of self-government for India.

But, he said, "I hope the Indian people may elect to remain within the British Commonwealth."

"If she does elect," he added, "it must be by her own free will, for the British Commonwealth, and Empire is not bound together by chains of external compulsion."

Attlee said that Britain, in making a final treaty with India, was not "going to hold out anything to our own advantage that would be to the disadvantage of India."

He said he thought India would "find great advantages" within the Commonwealth and warned that "no great nation can stand alone today."

Attlee said the cabinet mission was going in India "in a positive mood."

America's Food Reservoir Pledged To Aid Starving

Atlantic City, March 15 (P)—President Truman, hailing U.N.R.R.A.'s work as evidence that "cooperation for peaceful ends is possible," pledged today that America's full aid would be mustered to feed the starving millions in areas freed from war—but not from hunger.

Tersely, he declared in a poignant message to U.N.R.R.A.'s Fourth International Council that "in this country, our efforts are now solidly behind an emergency food economy program intended to release as large as possible a proportion of our food supplies for export to the starving peoples of the world."

Then he added: "As to the great work which U.N.R.R.A. has undertaken, I know of no more encouraging evidence that international cooperation for peaceful ends is possible than the record of U.N.R.R.A.'s achievements."

His exit from U.N.R.R.A.'s activities already announced, Director General Herbert Lehman combined a greeting and a farewell to the delegates in a short, sharp message. He declared:

"Our host nation entered into the combined operations for war with characteristic energy and confidence."

"The support given to U.N.R.R.A. by the people of America is indicative of their determination to continue to take part in a combined operation in the interests of peace."

"U.N.R.R.A. is a peacetime activity for world cooperation, and a successful one in which the people of the United States may be justly proud."

All Harmonious With State Republicans on Home Stretch

By TOM BENTON
Albany, N. Y., March 15 (P)—The Republican majority in the Legislature is happily driving down the home stretch toward adjournment without a serious blemish on its harmony record.

Republican leaders look forward to the important November elections with relative calm. They do not face the prospect of being forced to scamp about the state patching up party lines torn apart by Albany dissension.

In achieving at least outward harmony the Republicans successfully resisted a Democratic effort to drive a wedge between upstate and New York city G.O.P. lawmakers over the state aid issue.

This attempt back-fired, and the minority found itself forced to introduce and support local tax bill to permit New York city to meet current operating expenses. Among the Democratic measures was a one per cent increase in the city's sales tax, which Republicans hope will do the Democrats no good at the polls next November.

Preparing for the election, Republicans are hoping memory of solidarity shattering anti-discrimination and merit rating bills is fading.

Those measures precipitated acrimonious intra-party battle in 1945 before they were finally passed with conservative Republicans leading the opposition.

A strike control bill endorsed by the State Bar Association might have provoked a similar situation this year, but it has been shunted quietly back to committee.

Introduced by Senator Fred A. Young, Lowville Republican, the bill would make a labor union liable to suit for breach of contract or for property damages resulting from strikes. Young declares the bill was introduced only "for the purpose of discussion," and will not be reported out of committee.

Republican leaders are privately

ly heaving sighs of relief over the lack of bitter dispute between the factions of their party.

Publicity, they cagily evade direct queries on whether the situation is a premeditated plan to maintain a solid party front. There is no secret, however, about the general feeling that Governor Dewey's reelection attempt will be a nip and tuck affair, with upstate party harmony an absolute necessity.

Users of alcoholic beverages contribute in state taxes about $300,000,000 a year.

Tobacco users pay into state coffers about $150,000,000 annually in taxes.

Commerce Dep't Operation Discussed at Kiwanis Club

Mr. Swartsmiller, regional director of the State Department of Commerce and who is in charge of the newly opened field office of the department at 442 Broadway, Kingston, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis Thursday noon.

Mr. Swartsmiller discussed the general set-up of the State Department, what it can do and some of its most important activities. Noting that the department functions are carried on under three bureaus—industry, publicity and planning—the speaker told briefly of the work assigned to each bureau.

The Bureau of Industry investigates, studies and undertakes ways and means of promoting and protecting the industry of the state; it clears house for industrial development, promotes expansion and development of markets, encourages new business and the maintenance and expansion of existing business; plans business information services; develops scientific business indices and studies industrial trends and developments.

The Bureau of Publicity makes known the advantage of the state; it collects and distributes information and literature on the state's facilities and attractions; and gives special attention to disseminating publicity designed to attract tourists.

The Bureau of Planning studies changes in population and current trends; cooperates with state departments and agencies; cooperates with local plans and developments; makes studies of suggested laws and law changes in interest of business men and makes recommendations.

Mr. Swartsmiller said that the Kingston field office was more or less the eyes and ears of the State Department in securing information, but it also gave out information when it could be done properly.

The Kingston area was found to be very desirable one. There are here all the factors of industry looking for, he said—except perhaps the matter of housing.

The necessity of having some industry to "take up the slack" was emphasized. Although small business is important you can't have prosperity without industry, it was declared. It was found to be up to the people of the community whether or not needed industry was secured.

Purely a service agency, the Kingston office of the Department of Commerce will be glad to do anything it can to help, said Mr. Swartsmiller.

Loughran Honored

Thursday was the birthday anniversary of former Kiwanis Lieutenant Governor Roger H. Loughran. As part of the observance he was presented with a cake bearing one lighted candle. Roger observed that the one candle probably was due to the fact that it was all the cake could accommodate. He trusted that the good will being expressed was in inverse ratio to the size of the cake.

It was announced that 11 members so far had signed their intention to visit Mahopac Tuesday night, March 19, when the Putnam county club will celebrate Lieutenant Governor Roger H. Loughran. Lieut. Governor E. M. Huben. Delegations from the seven Kiwanis clubs in the second division will be present for the occasion.

Verdict in Ellenville

Taxi Case Not Accepted

The case against George R. VanAken of Ellenville, charged with hawking for hire, without a village taxi permit and with having improper license plates, was tried before Police Justice Benjamin Lonsdale and a jury Monday night. The hearing lasted for four hours. At its conclusion the jury brought in a verdict of guilty with recommendation of leniency. The court refused to accept the verdict with the recommendation for leniency. When the jury was polled Nial Moshier, one of the jurors, would not agree to the guilty verdict without the recommendation. Accordingly the jury was dismissed and the case set down for another trial. Charles F. Kaiser, Jr., represented the district attorney's office in the action, with John A. Bonomi appearing for the defendant, one violation charged happened a month or so ago.

Pravda Predicts Russia's Enemies Would Lose War

London, March 15 (AP)—A Pravda editorial broadcast by the Moscow radio declared today that any "author of new race theories" would suffer the same fate as that which befell the Nazis if the Soviet Union is threatened.

Emphasizing Generalissimo Stalin's attack Wednesday on Winston Churchill for advocating what Stalin termed Hitler-like race theories the Communist Party organ asserted:

"The German Fascists who chose as their ideological weapon one hated by men—race theory—were totally crushed in war. A similar fate will befall the author of new race theories if they dare raise their sword against the freedom and independence of our country."

Meanwhile, the London Daily Herald, Labor Party organ, urged in a front page editorial that Churchill "confine his eloquence to harmless themes" in his broadcast tonight in New York.

"If the British people wanted him as their spokesman in peace time they would have voted for him in July, 1945," the paper said.

Defends Churchill

The Madrid radio last night came to Churchill's defense with a broadcast denial that the former British Prime Minister had "fanned any threat against 'Moscow' in his March 5 speech at Fulton, Mo."

"Russia not only terrorizes the small nations but also seriously menaces the great powers," the broadcast said.

In Cape Town, South Africa, Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts told the South African Parliament he had no intention of defending Churchill's speech but expressed doubt that it could lead to a new war.

Resigns After 49 Years

With Ellenville Bank

Miss Anna B. Hoornbeek, teller of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Ellenville, today terminated her official connection with that institution, after 49 years of service. Miss Hoornbeek entered the employ of the bank in 1897 as a bookkeeper and has faithfully served its interests since that time. She tendered her resignation on March 12 and it was accepted by the directors in a resolution that testified to her loyal and efficient service during all these years. Miss Frances M. Moshier succeeds Miss Hoornbeek as teller.

She said that the dog was owned by a family named Rickert of 219 Catherine street. The boy's wound was treated at the Kingston Hospital.

REPORT REDS MOVE TOWARD TURKEY

A column of Russian troops, moving northward from Tabriz, was reported to have swung westward (arrow) toward the Turkish border. Shaded area is approximately that controlled by Russia in Iran. Black area is counties of Ardahan and Iars, given to Turkey by treaty in 1921, which the Soviet has asked be returned.

German Marshal Reported Suicide

Von Model, Trapped in the Ruhr, Chose Death to Capture by Allies

Heford, Germany, March 15 (AP)—Field Marshal Walther von Model, who had been hunted since his army was crushed in the Ruhr trap a year ago, took his own life with a revolver, April 21, 1945, British Intelligence officers said today.

They said he feared that if he surrendered himself to the western Allies he would be turned over to the Russians as a war criminal. Von Model's suicide and secret command on the Russian front prior to being transferred to the Western Front, was among the German officers accused by Russia of being responsible for deaths of 577,000 persons in concentration camps in Latvia and the deportation of 175,000 others as slave laborers.

The accusations were contained in a report last April 9 by a Soviet investigation committee. The report said that "German fiends" under von Model "spared no one. They murdered men and women, healthy and sick, children and old people" in mass extermination camps near Riga.

Von Model's suicide and secret burial occurred in Duisburg, Germany, after his German Fifth Panzer and 15th Armies had been annihilated. The intelligence officer said, Model commanded Army Group G, which was trapped in the Ruhr by a First and Ninth U. S. Army Junction April 1.

Hoover Again Pleads For Reduced Eating

New York, March 15 (AP)—Famine in Europe and Asia, already killing "many thousands," may yet take a greater toll unless Americans eat less until the foreign harvest next July, says Herbert Hoover.

"The amount of breadstuffs now visible to supply these people from the surplus countries is about 450,000,000 bushels," he said in a radio broadcast (NBC) last night. "But that is about 400,000,000 bushels short of enough to maintain their present meagre rations until the next harvest comes."

"Saving of human life is a moral and spiritual duty. . . . Today we are faced with areas in 20 nations where over 500 million people are in danger of starvation during the next 120 days."

Carey's Insurance Firm Moves to New Building

Carey's Insurance Agency, which has been located at 53 John street for the past 27 years, today is in its new offices in the LeFever Building at 292 Fair street, opposite the Stuyvesant Hotel.

The insurance business was established by former Mayor Eugene B. Carey on April 1, 1919, immediately following his discharge from the U. S. Army. The business was established with the late Parker K. Brincker as a member of the firm.

The Carey Agency was the headquarters for World War 1 veterans for many years, due to the fact that Mr. Carey was serving as adjutant of Kingston Post of the American Legion.

The building at 53 John street is to be torn down to make way for the improvements to the State of New York National Bank building.

President Seeks More Jobs for Veterans

Washington, March 15 (AP)—With nearly 1,500,000 veterans drawing unemployment pay, President Truman has asked employers everywhere to list their job openings with the U. S. Employment Service at once.

This has a two-fold advantage, Mr. Truman said in a statement yesterday. It helps the worker turn up the best available job, and the employer to find the person best qualified.

"Demobilization is now reaching its peak and the rapid redeployment of our discharged servicemen is a matter of high national importance," Mr. Truman said. A suitable job "promptly and without unnecessary shopping around" is vital to the veteran's readjustment, the President added. He spoke for the displaced war worker as well, urging that the search for employment not be made "unnecessarily burdensome."

Births Recorded

Woman Arrested

Attlee Upholds India's Right to Seek Its Freedom

London, March 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons today that if India chooses full independence from Britain "in our view she has the right to do so."

"It will be for us to help to make the transition as free and easy as possible," he declared during debate on the mission of three cabinet members who will go to India shortly to take up again the problem of self-government for India.

But, he said, "I hope the Indian people may elect to remain within the British Commonwealth."

"If she does elect," he added, "it must be by her own free will, for the British Commonwealth and Empire is not bound together by chains of external compulsion."

Attlee said that Britain, in making a final treaty with India, was not "going to hold out anything to our own advantage that would be to the disadvantage of India."

He said he thought India would "find great advantages" within the Commonwealth and warned that "no great nation can stand alone today."

Attlee said the cabinet mission was going in India "in a positive mood."

America's Food Reservoir Pledged To Aid Starving

Atlantic City, March 15 (AP)—President Truman, hailing U.N.R.R.A.'s work as evidence that "cooperation for peaceful ends is possible," pledged today that America's full aid would be mustered to feed the starving millions in areas freed from war—but not from hunger.

Tersely, he declared in a poignant message to U.N.R.R.A.'s Fourth International Council that "in this country, our efforts are now solidly behind an emergency food economy program intended to release as large as possible a proportion of our food surplus for export to the starving peoples of the world."

Then he added: "As to the great work which U.N.R.R.A. has undertaken, I know of no more encouraging evidence that international cooperation for peaceful ends is possible, than the record of U.N.R.R.A.'s achievements."

His exit from U.N.R.R.A.'s activities already announced, Director General Herbert Lehman combined a greeting and a farewell to the delegates in a short, sharp message. He declared: "Our host nation entered into the combined operations for war with characteristic energy and confidence."

"The support given to U.N.R.R.A. by the determination to continue to take part in a combined operation in the interests of peace, 'U.N.R.R.A. is a peacetime activity for world cooperation, and a successful one in which the people of the United States may be justly proud.'"

All Harmonious With State Republicans on Home Stretch

By TOM BENTON
Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The Republican majority in the Legislature is happily driving down the home stretch toward adjournment without a serious blemish on its harmony record.

Republican leaders look forward to the important November elections with relative calm. They do not face the prospect of being forced to scamp for the state patching up party lines torn apart by Albany dissension.

In achieving at least outward harmony the Republicans successfully resisted a Democratic effort to drive a wedge between unitary and New York city G.O.P. lawmakers over the state aid issue.

This attempt back-fired, and the minority found itself forced to introduce and support local tax bill to permit New York city to meet current operating expenses. Among the Democratic measures was a one per cent increase in the city's sales tax, which Republicans hope will do the Democrats no good at the polls next November.

Preparing for the election, Republicans are hoping memory of solidarity shattering anti-discrimination and merit rating bills is fading.

Those measures precipitated acrimonious intra-party battle in 1945 before they were finally passed with conservative Republicans leading the opposition.

A strike control bill endorsed by the State Bar Association might have provoked a similar situation this year, but it has been shunted quickly back to committee.

Introduced by Senator Fred A. Young, Lowville Republican, the bill would make a labor union liable to suit for breach of contract or for property damages resulting from strikes. Young declares the bill was introduced only "for the purpose of discussion," and will not be reported out of committee.

Republican leaders are privately

heaving sighs of relief over the lack of bitter dispute between the factions of their party.

Publicity, they eagerly evade direct queries on whether the situation is a premeditated plan to maintain a solid party front. There is no secret, however, about the general feeling that Governor Dewey's reelection attempt will be a nip and tuck affair, with upstate party harmony an absolute necessity.

Users of alcoholic beverages contribute in state taxes about $300,000,000 a year.

Tobacco users pay into state coffers about $150,000,000 annually in taxes.

President's Double-Talk Has Reporters Groping For Leads

By JACK BELL
Washington, March 15 (AP)—Capitol Hill Democrats wondered today whether President Truman's assertion that he doesn't intend to take part in New York politics carries down the line to other states, except his own Missouri.

Some murmured audibly that with the November election breezes blowing, Mr. Truman may find it difficult to keep the presidential coat tails out of reach of state and Congressional candidates. The President told his news conference yesterday he hasn't any idea of taking part in the selection of a Democratic candidate for governor in the Empire State.

He didn't know much about New York politics, Mr. Truman said, adding that if the reporters wanted to talk about Missouri—Well, said a reporter, how about the mayoralty race in Kansas City?

Oh, the President replied, he didn't vote in Kansas City. But Independence (his home town), now that was a different matter.

Well, a reporter asked how about the mayoralty race there? Right at home at this point, Mr. Truman said he was for re-election of the incumbent, Roger T. Sermon. That's right, he's a Democrat. He said, too, in response to another question that he would support Senator Briggs (D-Mo.) for re-election.

Evasive on Mead
With a newly-polished facility about the political future of Senator James Mead, New York Democrat, Mead has been mentioned as a possible opponent of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey again in the Republican nomination.

A newsman recalled a presidential letter this week in which Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.) was told he was too valuable to the Senate to be appointed a district judge. Did that apply to Mead, too?

Well, Mr. Truman grinned, he often said he thinks it better for a Senator with experience to remain in the Senate. He was in the Senate himself for 10 years, he recalled. Reporters waited, but he didn't go on.

No, he said in response to another question, he hadn't talked politics with Mead when the latter came to see him this week.

A reporter wondered whether there had been any talk about former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman as a Senate candidate should Mead run for governor.

No discussion, the President replied.

Better ask Senator Wagner about that, the President said with a shake of his head. (Friends said later that Wagner, in Florida recuperating from a recent illness, has no intention of resigning.)

That was all in the political line and reporters went away to add up what they hadn't found out.

President's Double-Talk Has Reporters Groping For Leads

By JACK BELL
Washington, March 15 (AP)—Capitol Hill Democrats wondered today whether President Truman's assertion that he doesn't intend to take part in New York politics carries down the line to other states, except his own Missouri.

Some murmured audibly that with the November election breezes blowing, Mr. Truman may find it difficult to keep the presidential coat tails out of reach of state and Congressional candidates.

The President told his news conference yesterday he hasn't any idea of taking part in the selection of a Democratic candidate for governor in the Empire State.

He didn't know much about New York politics, Mr. Truman said, adding that if the reporters wanted to talk about Missouri—Well, said a reporter, how about the mayoralty race in Kansas City?

On the President replied, he didn't vote in Kansas City. But Independence (his home town), now that was a different matter.

Well, a reporter asked how about the mayoralty race there?

Right at home at this point, Mr. Truman said he was for re-election of the incumbent, Roger T. Sermon. That's right, he's a Democrat. He said, too, in response to another question that he would support Senator Briggs (D-Mo.) for re-election.

Evasive on Mead

With a newly-polished facility Mr. Truman sidestepped questions about the political future of Senator James Mead, New York Democrat. Mead has been mentioned as a possible opponent of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey again in the Republican nominee.

A newsman recalled a presidential letter this week in which Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.) was told he was too valuable to the Senate to be appointed a district judge. Did that apply to Mead, too?

Well, Mr. Truman grinned, he often said he thinks it better for a Senator with experience to remain in the Senate. He was in the Senate himself for 10 years, he recalled. Reporters waited, but he didn't go on.

No, he said in response to another question, he hadn't talked politics with Mead when the latter came to see him this week.

A reporter wondered whether there had been any talk about whether former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman as a Senate candidate should Mead run for governor.

No discussion, the President replied.

Was Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York going to resign, was the next question.

Better ask Senator Wagner about that, the President said with a shake of his head. (Friends said later that Wagner, in Florida recuperating from a recent illness, has no intention of resigning.)

That was all in the political line and reporters went away to add up what they hadn't found out.

MONTE CASSINO ABBEY RUINS—The tomb of St. Benedict, founder of the Abbey, and his twin sister, St. Scholastica, is housed in this temporary structure (center) amid the monastery ruins atop Monte Cassino in Italy. The Abbey was leveled by Allied bombings two years ago, in March, 1944, to dislodge German troops who had been using the building as a lookout post. Except for a few cracks the tomb is undamaged. At upper right, three men walk over the area where 300 Italians were buried under debris.

Po'keepsie Fans Flock to Ferraro in Week-End Bowling Match

Feverish Betting Expected for Big Challenge Match

Ferraro, in Final Tune-Ups for Tony Sparando. Hits Maples for 232 Average at Central Alleys

The first evidence of support for Johnny Ferraro in his 30-game $1,000 challenge match against Tony Sparando this week-end was reported yesterday in Poughkeepsie.

Harry Levine, proprietor of the Dutchess County Recreation, telephoned here that Bridge City admirers of Ferraro have up to a thousand dollars with which to back the Kingston ace.

Meanwhile local sharpshooters are circulating about the Central Recreation alleys Thursday night looking for Ferraro money. One group announced it had plenty to wager on Sparando at even money. Virtually all of Kingston's professional gamblers, if there are any, are backing Sparando on the basis of experience.

Ferraro in Form
The match opens with a 10-game block Saturday night at 9 o'clock. The second block is scheduled Sunday at 2 p. m. and the 30-game series concludes Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

The pride of the Hudson Valley is in excellent shape, having knocked off some tremendous totals in recent warmup sessions. Wednesday, he battered the maples for a 232 average. Experts look for a high scoring duel and figure Ferraro will gain an early advantage to make it a brilliant match.

Under revised plans, the series will be rolled on alleys 5-6-7-8, with the bowlers changing drives every five games. The match starts on 5 and 6. Although reservations have been made only for blocks of three seats; the public is assured a large number of good seats. The Central Recreation management is making arrangements to accommodate as many people as possible. Ceremonies for the match will get under way at 8:45.

Golf Ball Shortage Likely to End by June 1, Pros Say

Jacksonville, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The golf ball shortage will be over by June 1, ending an era which saw pre-war pellets sell for $5 apiece, the touring pros of the winter golfing circuit agreed today.

During the scarcity, some of the top-notch money players frequently paid $60 for a dozen natural rubber balls, figuring the extra liveliness was worth the difference. Slammie Sam Snead played the entire 72-holes of the recent $10,000 St. Petersburg Open with one ball and collected second place money.

Some of the new synthetic rubber balls, costing less than a dollar, have proved satisfactory in tournament play, said Fred Corcoran, tournament boss of the P.G.A. But most of the pros prefer the natural rubber pellets.

"They still remember Jimmy Thomson's record 445-yard drive in San Francisco tournament several years back," Corcoran said. "Plenty of first-grade clubs, both woods and irons, also are expected to be available by summer."

The touring pros, minus Byron Nelson, last year's top money winner, are scheduled to tee off today in the initial round of the $10,000 Jacksonville Open. Rain delayed the start yesterday. Eighteen hole rounds are on tap for today and tomorrow, with the 36-hole final Sunday.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Al Mobley, 143½, New York, outpointed Freddy Sammons, 145, Chester, Pa., S. Doug Carter, 142, New York, outpointed Johnny Fry, 142½, Chester, 6.

Baseball Briefs

Miami Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The once down-trodden Philadelphia Phillies are perking up. They have won five or eight exhibition games, the latest a 1 to 0 shutout of their city rivals, the Athletics yesterday.

Anaheim, Calif., March 15 (AP)—All but three positions are still open on the St. Louis Browns. The three assured regular posts are Frank Mancuso, catcher; Johnny Berardino, second base, and Vern Stephens, shortstop. "If Stephens ends his holdout," Manager Luke Sewell adds.

Orlando, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The fielding and hitting of shortstop Cecil Travis is one of the brightest spots in the early play of the Washington Senators. He lacked his ol'ime bounce when he returned last season because his feet had been frozen in the "Battle of the Bulge," but now he's loose and limber and covering more ground than ever.

Sarasota, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Pitcher Jim Bagby, Jr., will make his 1946 debut for the Boston Red Sox today against the New York Yankees. He is slated to work three innings.

Lakeland, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Beaten in four straight exhibitions, the Detroit Tigers are hoping pitchers Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout can whip Cincinnati today. The Tigers have been rained out two straight days.

Pasadena, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Centerfielder Ralph Kinder drove in 10 runs yesterday for the Pittsburgh Pirates with two homers, a double and two singles against the Chicago White Sox. Johnny Rigney, Eddie Smith and Tony Kilsura were slated to pitch for the Sox against the Pirates today.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The New York Yankees have no deals "cooking" with any club at the present time, Manager Joe McCarthy and President Larry MacPhail declared together.

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Pete Reiser has been named regular centerfielder for the Brooklyn Dodgers this year.

Miami, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Watching from the dugout, Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants said he liked the natural ability of Jesse Pike who performed in Ott's right field spot against the Braves.

Miami, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Two upsets marked the opening of the national invitational college basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden last night before a record turnout of 18,458.

Rhode Island State, a 12-point underdog, eliminated second-seeded Bowling Green of Ohio, 82 to 79, in an exciting extra-period contest, after which West Virginia came through with a decisive 70-58 triumph over St. John's of Brooklyn, the five-point favorite.

The victory put the Rhodians and the mountaineers in next Monday's semi-finals against the winners of the remaining first-round games on Saturday night when top-seeded Kentucky tangles with Arizona and third-seeded Syracuse meets Muhlenberg. West Virginia will meet the Kentucky-Arizona winner and Rhode Island the Syracuse-Muhlenberg victor. The winners of Monday night's games will play for the title on Wednesday.

Russell, top-seeded foreign star, also needed five sets to eliminate John Acer of Birmingham, Ala., the tournament's first outpointed. The tournament's first outpointed. The tournament's first outpointed.

Talbert, country's second ranking player, is the top-seeded entrant here—with McNeill and Segura rated right behind him—but he is still bothered by a back injury he received in a slip on the ice at Buffalo not long ago and is not hitting the ball as well as he has in the past.

Talbert barely squeezed through the quarter-finals, coming from behind to trip Sidney Wood

Po'keepsie Fans Flock to Ferraro in Week-End Bowling Match

Feverish Betting Expected for Big Challenge Match

Ferraro, in Final Tune-Up for Tony Sparando, Hits Maples for 232 Average at Central Alleys

The first evidence of support for Johnny Ferraro in his 30-game $1,000 challenge match against Tony Sparando this week-end was reported yesterday in Poughkeepsie.

Harry Levine, proprietor of the Dutchess County Recreation, telephoned to the Bridge City admirers of Ferraro have up to a thousand dollars with which to back the Kingston ace.

Meanwhile local sharpies were circulating about the Central Recreation alleys Thursday night looking for Ferraro money. One group announced it had plenty to wager on Sparando at even money. Virtually all of Kingston's professional gamblers, if there are any, are backing Sparando on the basis of experience.

Ferraro in Form

The match opens with a 10-game block Saturday night at 9 o'clock. The second block is scheduled Sunday at 2 p. m. and the 30-game series concludes Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

The pride of the Hudson Valley is in excellent shape, having knocked off some tremendous totals in recent warm-up sessions. Wednesday, he battered the maples for a 232 average. Experts look for a high scoring duel and figure Ferraro will gain an early advantage to make it a brilliant match.

Under revised plans, the series will be rolled on alleys 5-6-7-8, with the bowlers changing drives every five games. The match starts on 5 and 6.

Although reservations have been made only for blocks of three seats, the public is assured a large number of good seats. The Central Recreation management is making arrangements to accommodate as many people as possible. Ceremonies for the match will get under way at 8:45.

Mid-Hudson Scribes to Meet in Montgomery on April 14

No Albany-N.Y. Race This Season

Local Boatmen to Hold Regatta on July 7

It was officially announced today that at the present time there were no indications that an Albany to New York motor boat race would be held this year, at least on its usual date.

This statement came from a member of the American Power Boat Association in response to a query made by a representative of the Kingston Power Boat Association who desired such information prior to the local organization's final plans for a regatta here this summer.

Newburgh Forfeits Locals Enter State Finals in Tourney

Due to the lack of playing material, Newburgh forfeited its game to the Kingston Y.M.C.A. basketball team last night which was scheduled for Poughkeepsie. As a result of the forfeiture, Coach Lou Schafer's basketball team automatically enters the New York State Y.M.C.A. basketball tournament finals which are slated for March 29 and 30 in Poughkeepsie at the state armory.

Bob Stone Is Temporary Chairman of Group Which Plans Dinner Party at Session

In an effort to promote keener feeling of fellowship and brotherhood between athletes and newspaper reporters covering their activities, sports scribes of the Hudson valley will meet in Montgomery on Sunday, April 14, in an effort to complete plans for an organization to be known as the Mid-Hudson Sportswriters Association. A dinner-party at that time will mark the occasion.

The move to establish such an association for Hudson Valley writers was initiated by Bob Stone, sports editor of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker, who formerly worked in this city. Bob is general chairman of the organizational committee, which also includes Wesley Gill of Newburgh and Howard DeFreitas of Middletown.

Writers who have been invited to the party in Montgomery are as follows: Howard DeFreitas and Ed Curran, Middletown; Wesley Gill and Ralph Frederick, Newburgh; Ed Riley, Port Jervis; Don Wagner, Poughkeepsie; Dick McCarthy, Poughkeepsie; Dick McCarthy, Charlie Tiano and Irwin J. Thomas, Kingston.

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

BEND AT WAIST: "In teaching beginners the very first thing I have to do is to get them to bend at the waist," says Mrs. Florence Kosta, bowling form analyst and instructor. "Nine out of 10 finish straight at the line to begin with, which causes them to drop the ball."

"The waist bend at the start, when the stance is taken, should be practiced by all women, for these reasons: (1) Bending gives the desired result of reducing the waist line, or keep it trim; (2) Starting in a crouched position, or with the shoulders drooped forward, keeps the body relaxed, so that it is easy to move into stride; (3) The ball should be held away from the body about four or five inches, waist high, as stance is taken."

"I use the push-away idea—emphasize it, in fact," she continued. "Pushing the ball away at the start causes the body to drop into an easy, comfortable crouch—the weight of the ball does it—and the ball then swings itself in a straight line or arc, like a pendulum, and comes through past the body. It isn't dropped."

"With the body crouched well down at the foul line the weight is settled comfortably on the left foot, the shoulders are in line, the left arm is stretched out for balance, the eyes are front."

Hundred Grand For A Ring

New York, March 15 (AP)—Jack Werst, a gem dealer, said today Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski twice has offered him $100,000 for a diamond ring which her mother sold to him after Mrs. Stokowski stopped her mother's allowance.

Werst, a resident of Dayton, Ohio, said Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt sold him the ring, a 16 1/2 carat pear-shaped diamond, for $30,000.

He said in an interview he turned down both offers made by brokers from New York and California for Mrs. Stokowski.

"I asked why he had not taken the offers, Werst said:

"It was not the price, other things enter into it, but, I wouldn't want to talk about them now."

Werst said he bought the ring from Mrs. Vanderbilt on February 13 through William Nelkin, a Manhattan broker.

Several days ago Mrs. Stokowski, who is in Mexico City with her husband, Leopold Stokowski, symphony conductor, said she had cut off a $21,000 yearly allowance to her mother and suggested Mrs. Vanderbilt get a job.

Mrs. Stokowski, heiress to a $4,364,000 fortune, said she was giving the money, formerly supplied to her mother, to blind and destitute children.

No Albany-N.Y. Race This Season

Local Boatmen to Hold Regatta on July 7

It was officially announced today that at the present time there were no indications that an Albany to New York motor boat race would be held this year, at least on its usual date.

This statement came from a member of the American Power Boat Association in response to a query made by a representative of the Kingston Power Boat Association who desired such information prior to the local organization's final plans for a regatta this summer.

At a meeting of the K.P.B.A. last evening it was officially announced that the local boat regatta, the first since 1941, would be held on July 7. One of the largest entry fields in the history of the event is expected to participate.

Newburgh Forfeits Locals Enter State Finals in Tourney

Due to the lack of playing material, Newburgh forfeited its game to the Kingston Y.M.C.A. basketball team last night which was scheduled for Poughkeepsie.

As a result of the forfeiture, Coach Lou Schafer's basketball team automatically enter the New York State Y.M.C.A. basketball tournament finals which are slated for March 29 and 30 in Poughkeepsie at the state armory.

Bob Stone Is Temporary Chairman of Group Which Plans Dinner Party at Session

In an effort to promote keener feeling of fellowship and brotherhood between athletes and newspaper reporters covering their activities, sports scribes of the Hudson valley will meet in Montgomery on Sunday, April 14, in an effort to complete plans for an organization to be known as the Mid-Hudson Sportswriters Association. A dinner-party at that time will mark the occasion.

The move to establish such an association for Hudson Valley writers was initiated by Bob Stone, sports editor of the Poughkeepsie News, who formerly worked in this city. Bob is general chairman of the organizational committee which also includes Wesley Gill of Newburgh and Howard DeFreitas of Middletown. Writers who have been invited to the party in Montgomery are as follows:

Howard DeFreitas and Ed Curran, Middletown; Wesley Gill and Ralph Frederick, Newburgh; Ed Riley, Port Jervis; Don Wagner, Poughkeepsie; Steve Bronley, Ed Lynch, George Mueller and Joe Marsico, Nyack; Ed Byrnes, Beacon; Jim Napier and Roy Lapolla, Peekskill; Bob Stone and George Palmateer, Poughkeepsie; Dick McCarthy, Charlie Tiano and Irwin J. Thomas, Kingston.

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

BEND AT WAIST: "In teaching beginners the very first thing I have to do is to get them to bend at the waist," says Mrs. Florence Kostka, bowling form analyst and instructor. "Nine out of 10 finish straight at the line to begin with, which causes them to drop the ball."

"The waist bend at the start, when the stance is taken, should be practiced by all women, for these reasons: (1) Bending gives the desired result of reducing the waist line, or keep it trim; (2) Starting in a crouched position, or with the shoulders dropped forward, keeps the body relaxed, so that it is easy to move into stride; (3) The ball should be held away from the body about four or five inches, waist high, as stance is taken."

"I use the push-away idea—emphasize it, in fact," she continued. "Pushing the ball away at the start causes the body to drop into an easy, comfortable crouch—the weight of the ball does it—and the ball then swings itself in a straight line through past the body. It isn't dropped."

"With the body crouched well down at the foul line the weight is settled comfortably on the left foot, the shoulders are in line, the left arm is stretched out for balance, the eyes are front."

Abandon Search For

Manila, March 15 (AP)—The Pacific Air Command today announced termination of a fruitless search for a C-47 transport.

The search, one of the most extensive ever undertaken by the combined Army and Navy air-sea rescue organizations in the western Pacific, was begun after the plane disappeared February 5. The transport, with a Filipino crew of 12, was taking the troops from Iloilo on Panay Island to Tacloban on Leyte.

Officials said that although the organized search ended, all aircraft officially vessels would continue on the port, alert for the missing trans-

Row Over Army vs. Civilian Control of A-Bomb Mounts

By JACKSON S. ELLIOTT
Washington, March 15 (AP)—The Congressional path of atomic energy legislation developed new bumps today as divergent interpretations sprang up over President Truman's position in the civilian-vs.-military control row.

Mr. Truman steered clear of the major point at issue—an amendment to a pending control bill. But he told his news conference yesterday that he still believed the military should be consulted, with primary control left to a civilian group directly responsible to him.

That's the stand he has taken, he said, and he referred reporters back to a six-week old letter to clear up what he termed a lack of clear understanding on the matter.

The Chief Executive had been asked specifically about action of the Senate's special atomic committee which earlier in the week outvoted Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.), 10 to 1, to accept an amendment by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.). This would set up a military board to consult with and advise the civilian control body McMahon favors. Any disagreement would be taken to the White House for decision.

Later McMahon, who has consistently opposed military control, issued a statement saying: "I am pleased that the President has reiterated his support of the vital principle that civilians must control atomic energy. Of course, as the President suggests, the commission should consult and advise with the military on military applications of atomic energy. And this is as far as any civilian commission should be required to go."

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), second-ranking member of this military committee said the President's statement was "an endorsement of the Vandenberg amendment." Vandenberg himself did not go that far, observing that he "could not know exactly what was in the President's mind."

But he added to a reporter: "My amendment gives the military absolutely no power. The only thing in the world it can do is advise the President."

His committee, meanwhile, looked forward to completing action on the control bill early next week. Upon Senate approval, it would go to the House which has a measure pending setting up another type of commission. Under this measure, sponsored by Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the chamber's military committee, there is no auxiliary military board, but military personnel would not be precluded from membership on the control commission.

McMahon has termed his bill, as amended, "worse than the May bill."

Reaffirmation of F.D.R.'s Policies Is Urged by Ickes

New York, March 15 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes wants President Truman to "stand up aggressively for the foreign policies of President Roosevelt" including agreement with the Soviet Union "based firmly upon mutual concessions and a willingness to give and take."

Ickes also declared the American people "do not feel comfortable with the sniping at Russia which is being indulged in" and that "they know that without Russia we would still be fighting the war. They cannot envisage a peaceful future without an understanding with Russia."

The former Secretary of the Interior, who resigned in a dispute with the President over the latter's nomination of Edwin A. Pauley as Undersecretary of the Navy, said the American people looked to the President for the appointment of "fit and competent men for high public office."

Without mentioning Pauley by name, Ickes told a meeting of The Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, of which he is executive chairman:

"I am sure that you will agree with me when I say further that we cannot subscribe to the proposition that when the President has nominated for public office a man who subsequently, before confirmation, is disclosed to be unworthy of office, he cannot withdraw the nomination without the consent of the nominee."

"No one can question the power of the duty of the President to dismiss from office an unfit employee, and certainly this power includes the lesser one of withdrawing a name before confirmation."

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, in a speech referred to Winston Churchill, former British Prime Minister, and said:

"I call upon our President and the Secretary of State to take whatever action may be necessary, no matter how dramatic, to convince the Russian people and the British people that we are not siding for or against either one of them, and that we believe that as in war, so in peace."

Reaffirmation of F.D.R.'s Policies Is Urged by Ickes

New York, March 15 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes wants President Truman to "stand up aggressively for the foreign policies of President Roosevelt" including agreement with the Soviet Union "based firmly upon mutual concessions and a willingness to give and take."

Ickes also declared the American people "do not feel comfortable with the sniping at Russia which is being indulged in" and that "they know that without Russia we would still be fighting the war. They cannot envisage a peaceful future without an understanding with Russia."

The former Secretary of the Interior, who resigned in a dispute with the President over the latter's nomination of Edwin A. Pauley as Undersecretary of the Navy, said the American people looked to the President for the appointment of "fit and competent men for high public office."

Without mentioning Pauley by name, Ickes told a meeting of The Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, of which he is executive chairman:

"I am sure that you will agree with me when I say further that we cannot subscribe to the proposition that when the President has nominated for public office a man who subsequently, before confirmation, is disclosed to be unworthy of office, he cannot withdraw the nomination without the consent of the nominee."

"No one can question the power of the duty of the President to dismiss from office an unfit employee, and certainly this power includes the lesser one of withdrawing a name before confirmation."

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, in a speech referred to Winston Churchill, former British Prime Minister, and said:

"I call upon our President and the Secretary of State to take whatever action may be necessary, no matter how dramatic, to convince the Russian people and the British people that we are not siding for or against either one of them, and that we believe that as in war, so in peace."

HOWARD HAS ARRIVED

A question which has been puzzling to many is the following: "Could you suggest any suitable wording for the announcement of an adopted baby? We would like to announce his presence in our family soon but in our state we will have to wait six months before the legal proceedings can be executed. Therefore, we do not want to use wording that might suggest he is legally ours."

Answer: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haven have the happiness to announce the arrival and prospective adoption of Howard aged two months.

Depends Upon Husband's Attitude
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for me to accept an invitation to dinner sent to me by a stranger, a woman in the same office as my husband? She sent the message through him, inviting us together.

Answer: Your husband can give you the best answer to this. If she is someone he likes and he thinks that you and she will find each other congenial, then accept by all means.

Customary for Bride's Family to Give Reception
Dear Mrs. Post: Wouldn't you agree that there was plenty of good reason to let the bridegroom's family give the wedding reception when practically all the guests will be their friends and relatives.

Answer: No, a small reception given by the bride's family is preferred, unless it is impossible that they do anything. It is entirely proper, however, that his family give as big a reception as they please when they return from their honeymoon.

Change of Name Effective With Actual Divorce
Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has been separated from her husband for years. There is now a divorce in the process. She has been using his name—that is, calling herself "Mrs. John Smith." I always have thought she should call herself what a divorcee does. She imagines that she should wait to make this change until the divorce is final. What is your opinion?

Answer: She is right.

Does a divorcee ever call herself "Mrs. Mabel Green?" The answer is found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Names and Signatures (Widow and Divorcee)," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to Mrs. Post in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York, 19, N. Y. (Released By The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Row Over Army vs. Civilian Control of A-Bomb Mounts

By JACKSON S. ELLIOTT
Washington, March 15 (AP)—The Congressional path of atomic energy legislation developed new complications today as divergent interpretations sprang up over President Truman's position in the civilian-vs.-military control.

Mr. Truman steered clear of the major point at issue—an amendment to a pending control bill. But he told his news conference yesterday that he still believes the military should be consulted, with primary control left to a civilian group directly responsible to him.

That's the stand he has taken, he said, and he referred reporters back to a six-week old letter to clear up what he termed a lack of clear understanding on the matter.

The Chief Executive had been asked specifically about action of the Senate's special atomic committee which earlier in the week ousted Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.), 10 to 1, to accept an amendment by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.). This would set up a military board to consult with and advise the civilian control body. McMahon favors. Any disagreements would be taken to the White House for decision.

Favors Civilians
In saying he felt a civilian commission, responsible to him, should have primary control, Mr. Truman said this should in no way hamper the military because the President is Commander-in-Chief of the armed forces and hence charged with national security.

Later McMahon, who has consistently opposed military control, issued a statement saying: "I am pleased that the President has reiterated his support of the vital principle that civilians must control atomic energy. Of course, as the President suggests, the commission should consult and advise with the military on military applications of atomic energy. And this is as far as any civilian commission should be required to go."

Hits Military Stand
"The military is noted for its reactionary position in the field of scientific research and development. x x x it is because I am concerned about our nation's security, as well as the development for peaceful purposes of atomic energy, that I want civilians to control this force unhindered by the military."

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), second-ranking member of this military committee said the President's statement was "an endorsement of the Vandenberg amendment." Vandenberg himself did not go that far, observing that he "could not know exactly what was in the President's mind." But he added to a reporter:

"My amendment gives the military absolutely no power. The only thing in the world it can do is advise the President."

His committee, meanwhile, looked forward to completing action on the control bill early next week. Upon Senate approval it would go to the House which has a measure pending setting up another type of commission. Under this measure, sponsored by Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the chamber's military committee, there is no auxiliary military board, but military personnel would not be precluded from membership on the control commission.

McMahon has termed his bill, as amended, "worse than the bill."

Legislative Roundup

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—A bill to create a state division of legislative reference and research, the principal recommendation of the Anderson committee, has been killed by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

The Anderson committee, established two years ago to investigate legislative practices and procedures, urged in its final report last month that a research division be created to provide lawmakers with facts needed for intelligent consideration of bills.

Senator Floyd E. Anderson of Binghamton, committee chairman, said the killing of the bill reflected a general failure of legislators to understand the value of a research division. He was certain, he added, that such a division would be established eventually.

Anderson yesterday withdrew his measure to relieve cities of the obligation of selecting emergency or part-time laborers from civil service lists.

He said he had learned after introduction of the measure that it could have jeopardized the jobs of 14,000 municipal workers now under civil service.

The senator added that if a legislative research division had been operating he could have determined the possible effect of the bill in advance.

Other developments:
1. The Senate passed, 37-2, and sent to the Assembly a measure extending provisions of the unemployment insurance law to domestic workers employed at least 48 hours a week in cities of 40,000 or more.

Churchill Speech Remains Strict Secret

New York, March 15 (AP)—Winston Churchill put the finishing touches today to tonight's speech in which he is expected to reply to critics of his Fulton, Mo., address and possibly to Generalissimo Stalin's denunciation of him as a "war-monger."

But the former British Prime Minister clamped a complete news blackout on the speech's actual content, and a member of his staff said that the only copy of the talk in existence is the one Churchill will use in its actual delivery 10:30 to 11 p. m. (E.S.T.) at official city dinner.
